Humphrey Vows to Push U. S.-Viet Nam Peace Drive

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived in Pakistan today with a promise that the United States will push its so far unsuccessful offensive to bring peace in Southeast Asia.

Humphrey told an audience: "My government has been and continues to be engaged in a most searching and intensive effort to bring about an honorable peace through negotiation to Viet Nam."

Humphrey flew 2,300 miles from Bangkok to Karachi after pledging bigger U.S. military aid to Thailand's leaders to cope with increasing Communist infiltration.

At Karachi airport, Humphrey told an audience: "My government has been and continues to be engaged in a most searching and intensive effort to bring about an honorable peace through negotiation to Viet Nam."

Nuclear War In Viet Nam Called Unlikely

McNamara Told Senators U. S. Won't Crush Hanoi Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has told senators the United States doesn't aim to hole up in enclaves or to escalate the war by trying to crush Ho Chi Minh's regime in North Viet Nam.

For those who worry the conflict may inch toward a nuclear showdown, McNamara said he can't conceive of the United States using nuclear weapons in South Viet Nam.

McNamara's remarks were in previously censored testimony early this month before the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations committees but made public today on the eve of Senate debate on Viet Nam.

He revealed a report, based on interrogation of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese prisoners, which concluded that stepped-up U.S. action on the ground and in the air had taken

Air, Artillery Attacks Costly to Communists; U. S. Casualties Light

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen killed 88 Viet Cong today in Operation Eagle's Claw, swelling the known enemy dead in widespread Allied strikes over the last 36 hours to 497.

Air and artillery bombardments are estimated to have added 150 others in two sectors, on the central coast and in the Mekong delta.

Most of the action centered around Bong Son, 300 miles northeast of Saigon. This is the base of big maneuvers by American, South Vietnamese and South Korean troops now reported to have accounted for 1,683 communist dead since Jan. 25.

The 3rd Brigade of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division struck the Viet Cong today in valleys 12 miles southwest of Bong Son. A dispatch from the scene said casualties of the Americans were extremely light.

Find 100 Bodies
Troops scouring the area reported finding 100 bodies, victims of 12 passes Monday by two U.S. A1E fighter-bombers which caught the Viet Cong in the open and hit them with rockets, bombs and cannon fire.

South Vietnamese paratroopers 20 miles north of Bong Son, on one flank of the operation, hit a Viet Cong strong-point of tunnels and trenches. U.S. artillery was called in, and a government spokesman said 200 enemy bodies were counted.

Government troops launched several operations in the Mekong Delta and claimed 110 Viet Cong killed and 6 captured in an hour-long battle 43 miles southwest of Saigon.

The U.S. Navy lost its first Swift patrol boat to a Viet Cong mine, and several of the six American crewmen were killed or injured.

Boat Sunk
The speedy patrol boat was sunk 250 yards off the southern coast in the Gulf of Thailand, 145 miles southwest of Saigon. Survivors picked up by a Viet-

Albert Thomas
Rep. Thomas From Texas Dies at 67

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Albert Thomas, veteran Democratic congressman from Texas, died today. He was 67.

A native of Nacogdoches, Tex., and a resident of Houston, Thomas had been a member of the House of Representatives for 15 two-year terms beginning with the 75th Congress of 1937.

Death was attributed to cancer, from which Thomas had long suffered. He died at his Washington home.

Thomas was a graduate of Rice University, and held a law degree from the University of Texas. He was a World War I veteran.

He was married and the father of two daughters, Mrs. Edward A. Lasater and Lera.

Self-Help Theme

War on Poverty Shifts to Rural U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The farms interspersed with many government hopes to begin a small and a few larger cities. They would include representatives from all counties and rural America. The initial cost is low and the theme is self-help.

The vehicle for the new government program is the Rural Community Development Service, a planning agency authorized last year. President Johnson has asked Congress for $5 million to give the agency the go-ahead to begin operations in all 50 states.

The service's main goal is to set up hundreds of rural planning districts and provide the incentive for them to tackle the immediate — and future — problems in their

Mardi Gras Time Cue for Charity Party

Confetti, streamers, glittering masks and bright balloons set a festive background for the Neenah-Menasha Service Circle of The King's Daughters Mardi Gras party Saturday evening. It is the second such event planned by the circle, with proceeds from the party at North Shore Golf Club scheduled for support of the Circle's charities.

Mr. and Mrs. James Winters, costumed in the manner of New Orleans Mardi Gras, presided at the punch bowl during the 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. cocktail hour. Checkered tablecloths and candles in wine bottles were set up around the dance floor. Many couples dined at the club before the dance.

Mrs. James P. Keating was party chairman.

Church Wedding, White House Reception for Luci

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's going to be a big church wedding in Washington with a White House reception for the President's daughter, Luci Johnson and Patrick J. Nugent.

The date — Aug. 6 — a Saturday — at high noon the White House announced late Monday.

Despite all the speculation about a White House wedding, Luci and Nugent have always wanted to be married in church, a White House spokesman said. They picked the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, a big Roman Catholic church on the campus of the Catholic University of America. Archbishop Patrick J. O'Brien of Washington will offer the Nuptial Mass.

Mrs. Johnson's press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, said the young couple wanted the wedding to be a family event, rather than a state occasion.

The church they chose, however, is the seventh largest in the world, according to a church spokesman.

Luci will be the first to be held there. The spokesman said the scaffolding should be down by August.

Some construction is still under way on side altars and scaffolding now blocks the view of the main altar. The spokesman said the scaffolding should be down by August.

Luci will be 19 by then, with Nugent edging close to 23. Their engagement was announced last Christmas Eve.

The date of the wedding was announced while Nugent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Nugent Sr., were driving back to their Waukegan, Ill., home after a weekend visit at the White House and their first meeting with President and Mrs. Johnson.

The White House reception will be given by President and Mrs. Johnson for "relatives and close family friends," the announcement said. How many would be invited to the wedding and the White House was not indicated. No other details were disclosed.

Nugent and his parents are Roman Catholics. Luci, who had been baptized Episcopalian like her mother, became a Catholic on her 18th birthday last July.

Nugent is a graduate of Marquette University at Milwaukee, Wis. He escorted Luci to Marquette's graduation from last June on their first date.

Newsman Is Press Clubs 'Sweetheart'

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Valentine party honoring recently retired reporter May Craig as "everybody's sweetheart" has brought about a temporary marriage of Washington's men's and women's press clubs.

The merger tickled May. She is "deeply touched."

In the span of years she covered five presidents, women rarely were allowed to cover events with such equality in the all male National Press Club.

There is no plan for the two clubs to stay married. But it was all hearts and flowers as they jointly arranged for May's Valentine — a cocktail party and roast beef dinner tonight in the ballroom of the National Press Club for about 400 reporters, friends and VIPs.

May's own marriage gave them plenty of precedent.

Her late husband, newsman Donald Craig, who was killed in an auto accident on a trip covering President Warren G. Harding, had been a founder of the National Press Club. May was president of the Women's National Press Club from 1943 to 1944.

In her more than 30 years working as Washington correspondent for the Guy Gannett newspapers of Maine, May had done some battling for feminine rights herself. She led one fight for equal space — for ladies rooms — in the House and Senate press galleries.

She fought down prejudice to become the lone woman allowed aboard an all-male aircraft carrier to cover events of World War II. She scored plenty of "firsts," including, she says, being the first woman to fly over the North Pole. That title was clouded a bit though, May admits, by an Army nurse's claim to a similar exploit.

Asked who she would like to have come to her Valentine party, May's list included President Johnson and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Across the nation May Craig became best known for her tart questions asked at presidential news conferences and during appearances on the NBC television program "Meet the Press."

May took careful aim with her questions and faced with one of them, she recalls, President Franklin D. Roosevelt retorted, "I bet you stayed up all night thinking about that."

"As a matter of fact, I had," says May.

Boom in Men's Clothing Independent of War Need

By PEGGY SIMPSON
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Viet Nam war, with its demands for more military clothing, isn't limiting the civilian's choice of apparel, manufacturers meeting here say.

Nor do they foresee anything but expansion in the men's and boys' clothing industry, even though many firms are getting mandatory government contracts to clothe the military.

Most manufacturers are confident they can satisfy the government's needs without sacrificing those of an affluent public.

"I don't see any evidence of any cutbacks," said Richard Adler, president of Joseph and Feiss Co. "And I don't anticipate any unless the war escalates far beyond the present level."

The manufacturers are showing new spring, summer and fall fashions through Wednesday to 10,000 retailers at the 51st convention of the Menswear Retailers of America.

Bright Outlook

The overwhelming mood is one of optimism and excitement. Manufacturers and retailers talk of 1966 being a "25 million suit year" and of men's and boys' fashions passing the $13.5-billion sales mark of 1965.

"This peacetime boom is big enough — we're not dependent on a war economy," said Mike Devcich, president of Pacific Worsteds Mills Co. "Now let's not kid ourselves — the Viet Nam conflict has been a boost to the economy — but not to a phony degree."

The textile industry says it can meet the government's needs, Devcich said, with the only effect being a possible delay in delivery dates to retailers.

More Stable

If a peace treaty were signed tomorrow and the government contracts terminated, Devcich predicted there would be no such industry letdown as that which followed the Korean peace.

A former association president, Lawson H. Riley of M. McInerney Ltd., Honolulu, believes the effect of the Viet Nam war "is going to be infinitesimal."

Riley said, "The capacity of our manufacturers is so great that not within the foreseeable future will there be any problems in supplying raw material or manufacturing goods for retail."

Jerold Murphy Circuit Judge At Fond du Lac

Appointment Opens Vacancy on County Court Bench

FOND DU LAC — Gov. Knowles appointed County Judge Jerold E. Murphy to a $20,500-a-year circuit judgeship and in doing so created another judicial vacancy.

Murphy, 49, succeeds the late Judge Russell E. Hanson as 18th circuit judge.

He was one of four candidates recommended for the post after members of the Fond du Lac and Green Lake County Bar Associations were polled at the request of the governor.

Murphy, a veteran county judge, is well known throughout the Fox Valley and at one time was chairman of the Wisconsin County Judges Association.

All Qualified
The governor's office notified him of the appointment shortly before 9 a.m.

"Each of the candidates has considerable support and all are qualified," Gov. Knowles said at Madison. "Since I asked for the plebiscite by the bar associations, it is only fitting to accept the recommendation of the majority who endorsed Judge Murphy by a substantial margin."

Others who had been considered for the job were: County Judge Hazen W. McEsey and Attorneys Kenneth Worthing, Fond du Lac, and James L. McMonigal, Green Lake.

Heavy Calendar
It was reported in The Sunday Post-Crescent that Gov. Knowles wanted to expedite the appointment and, after conferring with aides over the weekend, would pick Judge Hanson's successor by Tuesday.

The 18th circuit court always has a heavy calendar, covering Fond du Lac and Green Lake Counties.

Judge Murphy presided over his own county probate court this morning as arrangements

Friends Salute Guy E. McCorison

KAUKAUNA — Guy E. McCorison, who retired last week as chairman of the board of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co., was honored by friends at a recent dinner at North Shore Country Club.

Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon presented him with a plaque, citing his work in community projects and paying tribute to his interest in the city.

Charles L. Dostal, company president and McCorison's successor as chairman of the board, presented him with a bound scrapbook containing well wishes from hundreds of friends and customers from throughout the country.

His associates from the sales department of Thilmany, presented McCorison and Mrs. McCorison with an engraved silver tray.

McCorison came to Thilmany 30 years ago, starting in the sales department. During his tenure he saw gross sales increase from $3.6 million to $44 million. McCorison was on vacation during January and fellow workers took the opportunity to promote that month as "McCorison Month."

An attorney was appointed by the court Monday afternoon for Larry W. Haehnlein, 23, Box 53, Little Chute, charged with five counts of forgery following investigation by Appleton, Little Chute and Outagamie County authorities.

County Judge Justave J. Keller appointed Atty. Jerome Block to represent the Little Chute man who was found in the indictment. The case was continued to 2:30 p.m. Friday and bond was set at $2,500.

Haehnlein is charged with cashing five forged checks between Jan. 15 and Feb. 9 at Little Chute and Appleton businesses. The checks ranged in amount from $40 to $51, police said.

Haehnlein allegedly used the check blanks from Badger Wrecking Co.

Club. McCorison also received a plaque on behalf of the citizens of Kaukauna and an engraved tray from Thilmany personnel. Watching the presentation are H. O. Peters, left, company vice president, and J. T. Thomas, right, vice president for sales and marketing. McCorison was employed at Thilmany more than 30 years.

Council Approval Sought To Prepare Avenue Plans

Chimney's Down, But Heat's Not Off at Old City Hall

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Glancing up at the chimney-less municipal building, a well-meaning citizen made the innocent observation, "The heat must be off at city hall."

Needless to say — it was the understatement of the century.

The heat's always on at Appleton's City Hall, friends, and this being a big election year there may be a torrid time ahead.

Actually, the dismantling of the chimney on the roof of the 77-year-old building has become general subject matter for "sidewalk superintendents."

Portion Tumbles
Attention centered on the community landmark last week when a portion of the chimney came tumbling down with a little nudge from the weather.

Because the old building has gas heat, removal of the major portion of the stone chimney did not require shutting down the heating plant.

However, when it comes to temperatures inside the old building — a school before being converted to a city hall — you can freeze on one floor and nearly suffer a heat stroke on another.

The chimney and related subject matter were broached by the council's street-sanitation committee Monday afternoon.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues said razing the chimney and putting up a fabricated metal stack would cost close to $1,800.

What About Inside?

"Now that we've taken care of the chimney on the outside, what can we do about the inside of this building?" inquired Ald. Clifford Radder (16th).

He told of encountering several climates as one moves from office to office, and floor to floor.

"Sometimes you can walk into this conference room," Radder said, "and it must be 105 degrees in here." He was referring to the room just off the council chambers on the second floor.

However, anyone sitting on

Suggest Mile of Rebuilding

The Appleton Council will be asked Wednesday night to authorize the preparation of preliminary construction drawings for the proposed College Avenue reconstruction.

A recommendation to get the long - discussed project on the drawing boards was made Monday afternoon by the street-sanitation committee after conferring with Public Works Director Robert W. Bues.

The Committee specifically recommended that:

—College Avenue be reconstructed from Richmond to Drew Streets, a distance of about a mile

Street Width
—The new street have a 64-foot width without extended curbs —Sidewalks be a 16-foot width.

—Construction drawings be completed by June 1.

The committee said it was taking action to get the College Avenue project off dead - center and indicated a council committee of the whole meeting might be in order if aldermen so desired.

No estimate was given of the cost on replacing all underground utilities and constructing an all-new street surface and sidewalks. But Bues did say it would be the biggest single undertaking in the city's history.

Disagreement on Time Span
There appeared to be disagreement among committee members whether reconstruction should be done in one year, or laid out on a two-year phase basis.

"There is a huge volume of legwork and procedures to be followed in just planning the project," Bues said. "We can't waste any time if we want to get going in 1967."

Bues thought it would be ideal to declare a moratorium on College Avenue building while the street is being rebuilt. However, he indicated downtown merchants have plans for remodeling their buildings during the time the avenue is torn

The committee agreed with the recent central business

Ex-Resident of Kaukauna Killed In Soo Line Yard

Ralph J. Noonan Jr., 28, Fond du Lac, former Kaukauna High School athletic star, was crushed to death Monday night when the railroad car he was riding crashed into a shop door at the North Fond du Lac yards of the Soo Line railroad.

Noonan, a switchman, was on the lead end of the car when it became free and rolled into the door. Road officials said they did not know how the car became free.

Noonan was born in Kaukauna July 5, 1937 and graduated from Kaukauna High School in 1955. He was employed at Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co. and at Miller Electric in Appleton before starting work for the Soo Line.

Survivors are the widow, two sons, three daughters, his parents, Mr and Mrs. Ralph Noonan, 112 McKinley St., Kaukauna; three brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services will be at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at the Zacherl Funeral Home in Fond du Lac with burial in Calvary Cemetery there. Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Deliberations Set For University Sites

State Panel Convenes Monday;
Recommendations Due Feb. 25

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The committee responsible for recommending locations for two new four-year branch campuses of the University of Wisconsin in northeastern Wisconsin will begin its final deliberations at a session here Monday.

Assemblyman Glen Pommerening, chairman of the statutory group, said it will assemble at last year.

Pommerening speculated that the first official reaction to the technical and engineering aspects of site selection and a detailed study of the proposals received.

Approval Needed

He repeated that the committee is trying to meet its previously imposed deadline of Friday, Feb. 25, for the filing of its final report with recommendations for new campus selections in the Fox River Valley and Racine-Kenosha areas, problem of population capacity at the existing institutions, and probably be made public on Friday.

The committee's report will be submitted to the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, the state Building Commission and Gov. Warren Knowles. Approval from all three will be required to permit site acquisition, preliminary engineering and other preparatory work authorized by the Legislature in a $400,000 appropriation.

Pommerening speculated that the first official reaction to the technical and engineering aspects of site selection and a detailed study of the proposals received.

March 1 for the consideration of a wide range of basic policy questions, including the controversial matter of imposing a formal limit on non-resident enrollment at state-supported institutions of higher learning. That question relates to the areas, problem of population capacity at the existing institutions, and probably be made public on Friday.

Robbery Charges Filed Against Neenah Pair

Judge Keller Signs Warrants Charging Pair
With Holdup of Heigl's Market on Jan. 25

County Judge Gustave J. Keller this morning signed warrants charging two Neenah area youths with the armed robbery of Heigl's Market, 302 S. Story St., on the evening of Jan. 25.

The warrants, prepared by Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer, name Frank Brakop, 18, 512 Hewitt St., Neenah, and a 17-year-old, route 2, Neenah youth.

The 17-year-old was waived from juvenile court jurisdiction here by County Judge Raymond P. Dohr, but the youth has not yet been waived in Winnebago County where he is being held in connection with other incidents.

Winnebago County Judge James G. Sarres said this morning that Winnebago authorities have not made a referral on the youth. A hearing would

Other Charges

Brakop is being held in Winnebago County jail after he appeared in court there Monday on charges of two burglaries and bombing of a Wisconsin Telephone Co. relay station.

Brakop, who has not posted $3,000 bond, asked for a court appointed attorney and Judge James Sitter set an indigency hearing for March 4.

Appleton detectives questioned the two youths at Oshkosh Sunday and obtained statements.

Miss Paula Wiltzius, clerk at Heigl's market when it was robbed about 8 p.m., was taken du Lac with burial in Calvary Cemetery there. Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Pommerening Assured of Long-Range Plans

Threatened Moratorium on State Campus Expansion Called Off

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A threatened moratorium on campus expansion at the University of Wisconsin and in the state university system was called off Monday when the State Building Commission received the pledge of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education that it will speed long-range planning for the development of state-supported higher education.

Assemblyman Glen Pommerening, Wauwatosa, a member of the building commission which controls the borrowed funds involved in the campus enlargement programs of the schools, had threatened to make a motion delaying additional construction pending the development of a practical and long-range higher education plan.

Yesterday, the commission was assured by former Gov. Walter J. Kohler, chairman of the CCHE, and other members of the executive committee of that controlling higher education agency, that Pommerening's demands will be met during the next few months.

Served Purpose

Pommerening then moved that the commission continue with the execution of the building construction requests planned for the current budget biennium. He explained that he had served his purpose by prodding the CCHE into action more quickly than would otherwise have been likely.

Pommerening's declaration a month ago that he planned to move for a cessation of building authorization because of the lack of long-range development plans had startled the higher education hierarchy, and especially because there were signs that he had some support from members. But Gov. Warren P. Knowles, commission chairman, appeared uncertain about the commission's criticism. Knowles also said little during the discussion Monday.

W. D. McIntyre, Eau Claire, of the board of regents of state colleges, and Philip Lerman, Milwaukee, of the State Board of Vocational Education, as members of the CCHE, assured the committee that the answers about future plans demanded by Pommerening will be given.

Only Arthur DeBardleben, Park Falls, of the University of Wisconsin board of regents, appeared dubious. He said the higher education system is so fluid and dynamic that it may not be possible to draw up a long-range program of the kind Pommerening demanded.

But the UW regents' chair-

Building Commission Approves $195,489 Toward WSU-O Site

MADISON — The State Building Commission Monday approved $195,489 as the state's share of the condemnation price awarded owners of property that has become the site of a residence hall and a food service center at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh.

The WSU-O figure was part of more than $1.1 million in funds approved by the commission. The total included $680,000 for the state university system, $470,000 for the University of Wisconsin and $94,000 for the Public Welfare Department.

Police Investigate Theft of Wheel Cover

KAUKAUNA — Police are investigating the complaint of David Haen, 258 W. Wisconsin Ave., about a wheel cover being stolen from his car while it was parked on Desnoyer Street sometime between 11:30 p.m. Saturday and 1 a.m. Sunday.

Supervised Schools

In 1962 he was named supervising principal of the attached schools for one year after the attachment of five districts and parts of four others to the Appleton district. He supervised Badger, Triangle, Twin Willows, Woodlawn and Red Star schools.

Bubolz Accuses Appleton of Polluting Waters

The City of Appleton was accused by Gordon Bubolz, Wolf River Plan Commission chairman, Monday of polluting waterways in this area.

He made the charges at the end of a talk before members of the Neenah Club.

Bubolz specifically said that:

—The headwaters of Bear Creek are being spoiled by Appleton's dumping (landfill) methods in the Town of Center.

—Another bad practice was the storage of Appleton's street salt in piles on the banks of the Fox River where, he said, they are washed into the river during rains.

Bubolz's accusations were refuted today by Public Works Director Robert W. Bues who said he had no intention of "becoming involved in a feud between the Wolf River and Fox Valley Plan Commissions, or what he considers several other examples of bad water usage practices.

Bubolz showed members of the Neenah Club a picture of burning rubbish in a marshland and said this was the type of land use the commission (Wolf River) is trying to prevent.

The dump maintained by the City of Appleton is about seven miles from the city at Mack-ville. The refuse disposal there is the sanitary landfill method, Bubolz said.

Shows Slides
Bubolz asked after showing the slide, "Does this look like sanitary to you?"

"Sanitary — my eye!" he exclaimed.

During his speech, which was centered on the theme of the need for more responsible preservation of the area's water resources, Bubolz also singled out what he considers several other examples of bad water usage practices.

One was his claim that Appleton was storing salt in piles at the riverfront near the Appleton Yacht Club, the area known as Lutz Park.

Another, Bubolz said, is the construction of a large ranch house on the banks of the Wolf River near Big Falls, which he said cut off the view of the falls.

Inventory Sites

Bubolz said the commission has taken an inventory of all possible sites along the river which may be reserved for public use and said federal and state agencies are helping to grow to the point that the landfill operation should be replaced by an incinerator facility," Bues said, noting the project is included in the city's five-year plan.

Bues said a few years someone complained about the city having salt piles on the banks of the Fox River and state agencies were called in to make inspections. "The city received a copy of the lab test from the state which indicated the stockpile at Lutz Park had no discernible effect on the riverly by the state and during the three years that he (Bues) has added.

"Unless we get documented complaints, or a directive from some state agency, the city assumes no problem exists," Bues said.

"We do feel Appleton has

state agencies are helping to

grow to the point that the landfill operation should be facility," Bues said, noting the project is included in the city's five-year plan.

Sales, Marketing Organization Functions Altered in Change

NEENAH - MENASHA — plastic and paper products American Can Co. announced today it has realigned its sales and manufacturing organizations.

In the major reshuffling of company functions, Emmet Below has made a lateral shift from head of the firm's paper products group to vice president and general manager for marketing. Board Chairman William

May said. Both his marketing functions and the manufacturing operations will be broken down into six departments in the "continuing evolution of the 'one-company' plan of operation initiated by the company last year," May said.

The company's present glass:

Bergstrom Re-Elects 9 Directors

15 Cent Quarterly Dividend on A, B Stocks at Meeting

NEENAH — Bergstrom Paper Company's nine directors were re-elected at the annual meeting of stockholders Monday.

Following the shareholders meeting, the directors met to select officers and declared a first quarter dividend of 15 cents per share on the company's Class A and B common stock. The dividends will be payable March 15 to stockholders of record March 1, 1966.

Elected directors from outside the company were Harry H. Kirby, vice president for production and personnel, West Publishing Co.; Carl E. Steiger, chairman of the board, Oshkosh National Bank; Harry D. Wolfe, Ph.D., professor of marketing, school of commerce, University of Wisconsin; and William H. Zuehlke, director and chairman of the finance committee. Aid Association for Lutherans.

Directors from the company are N. H. Bergstrom, H. R. Moore, D. W. Bergstrom, Burt B. Fisher and A. R. Hedlund.

Re-elected officers of the company were N. H. Bergstrom, chairman of the board; H. R. Moore, president; D. W. Bergstrom, executive vice president; Burt B. Fisher, vice president; Franklin Moore Jr., secretary; A. R. Hedlund, treasurer; and Norman Young, assistant treasurer.

Residents Back Names on City Tenure Petition

MENASHA — Some 20 Menashans appeared at a Valentine's Day council meeting to support the presentation of their signatures on petitions objecting to the manner in which the aldermen put the city attorney and treasurer on an appointive-tenure basis.

Charles Littlefield, Neenah attorney retained to represent the petitioners, said, while there was no animosity on the part of the signees toward the present office holders, the citizens group feel "their right to vote and right to express their views is being taken away."

The petition asked that the council rescind its action of Jan. 4 when the two offices were placed on an appointive basis.

City Treasurer Wilbert Edwards had requested by letter a month and a half before the Jan. 4 council meeting to be placed on tenure, but the first miracle at this time of the parallel action of

Ald. Clifford Radder (16th) took out after the city's street-patching crews Monday—claiming they should be required to attend a demonstration on how to properly fill a hole.

"I've been getting complaints some men on the crews merely throw a shovel of fill off the truck without even tamping it," Radder declared.

Radder suggested the crews be called in an hour before the patching work begins, putting time some day to attend a workshop on the proper way of patching streets.

Can't Expect Miracles Public Works Director Robert W. Bues told Radder and other Jan. 4 council members "not to expect miracles at this time of the parallel action of

Cancer Drive Chairmen Are Named

Committee chairmen who will head the various divisions of the Outagamie Unit of the American Cancer Society were named by John Huff, 1966 chairman, at a quarterly meeting of the board of directors Monday.

Mrs. Arthur Alesch is in charge of the rural area; Elmer Honkamp, urban and special events; S. H. Van Steen, business; Mrs. Harold Abrahamson, residential chairman for Appleton, and Huff, county.

Other crusade committeemen are James Fitzgerald, special gifts; Dr. Gilbert Mueller and Dr. William Stimp, medical and dental; and Stanley Gabert, legal. Mrs. H. P. Robinson will head the publicity committee.

A goal of $21,935 has been set for the county.

Suggest Revamp for Twin Cities Community Chest

NEENAH - MENASHA — Immediate investigation of a United Fund Approach to charitable giving as part of a four-point program to strengthen the Neenah-Menasha Community Chest was suggested at the group's annual meeting Monday.

We are at a crisis and the Parent-Teacher Association, Konrad Tuchscher of the State Graded School at 81er, chest president said. Reduction of allocations to the 13 member chest agencies was unpleasant and sobering experience for the board of directors, he added. The 1965 chest campaign fell short of its

Arthur Malin, community chest director, earlier said there has been $10 million sought in capital fund drives in the last three years in the Fox Cities.

The Twin Cities, with their present prosperity, should have no difficulty, despite these drives, meeting Community Chest obligations, Tuchscher, said.

The United Fund recommendation was the third point of his program suggested for investigation between now and the 1966 fund drive.

Tuchscher's four point program includes: 1. Make fund raising a year around activity so that activity develops to a crescendo of enthusiasm when the drive starts. He also suggested a small group investigate per- formance in all chest divisions, especially mercantile, industry and general solicitation.

2. Step up publicity with a speakers bureau, more and better newspaper coverage, now.

Committee to Screen Architects for School

Unit to Recommend Designer for Northwest Area Grade Building in Gillett Highlands

A committee of three to down to two, the other being a screen the 14 architects who dark red brick currently popular have requested interviews for with builders, according to the design of the new Gillett Highlands northwest elementary school was named by Dr. Roy

Whitney, president of the board of education, Monday night. Members of the committee, who will recommend an architect for approval by the board, are John Schneider, Victor Sumnicht, and Dr. Whitney, chairman. The board has received approval of the Appleton Council to proceed with plans for the proposed school which may include an orthopedic wing in addition to the elementary section. Costs have been estimated in excess of $1 million.

Select Brick The type of brick which will be used for the new Appleton High School East was selected by the board Monday.

Chosen to supply the estimated 500,000 grayish Beldon bricks needed for the school was the Gagnon Clay Products Co. of Green Bay.

The choice had been narrowed.

Other savings totaling $45,360 in the building of the new school were outlined by William Spears, superintendent.

A change-order list showed that by omitting some items and substituting others, a savings of $21,993 can be made on the general contract; $1,835 on plumbing; and $21,532 on heating.

Fines Total $450 for Two Tipsy Drivers

Clintonville Man Also Admits Hit-Run Charge

Clintonville and Shiocton drivers were fined a total of $450 in Municipal Justice Court in Waupaca and New London Monday when they pleaded guilty to charges of operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants.

Alvin Brie, 53, 71 Roberts St., Clintonville, was fined a total of $250. He also pleaded guilty to a charge of hit and run driving.

Brie was arrested Feb. 13 by a county traffic patrolman in the Town of Larrabee after a complaint was received that he had knocked down a mail box and fire number sign.

Robert Odell, 23, route 2, Shiocton, was fined $200. He was being held in the New London city jail pending payment of his fine.

Odell was arrested by city police after his car struck a vehicle parked in the Rainbow Motel lot on State 54 and U.S. 45 about 12:05 a.m. Monday.

Odell registered .18 on a drunkometer test. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

The driver's licenses of both men were suspended for a year.

Freedom to Register Kindergarten Pupils

FREEDOM — Kindergarten registration for the 1966-67 school year will be from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday at the school, William Van Laasen, elementary school principal, has announced.

Youngsters must be five years old on or before Oct. 1. Proof of age must be presented.

Children of first grade age who have not attended kindergarten and other newcomers also can register at this time, school officials said.

Floating Ice Shanty Gives Anxious Moments to Police

Three sturgeon fishermen whose shanty was spotted floating in the middle of Little Lake Butte Des Morts caused policemen from three departments several anxious minutes this morning.

The first call came in to the Winnebago County Sheriff's Department about 10 a.m. A citizen said that a man who had been removing a fishing shanty from the lake had disappeared. Appleton police were notified, since it appeared the shanty was floating, on a chunk of ice, downstream toward the city.

Two Thermostats

Someone inquired if putting a thermostat control in each office would give the building a more balanced heat during the cold winter months.

And at this point it was disclosed by Public Works Director Robert W. Bues that there are now two thermostats in the building — both in the basement and both in the same room.

Bues said it was common for room temperatures to vary from 48 to 90 degrees in the city hall building.

"I know that in my office the temperature has hit a low of 53 degrees during the winter and 103 degrees in the summer," Bues commented.

Approve Contracts

Contracts were approved for Mrs. Evelyn Finnegan who will teach kindergarten at McKinley School; Mrs. Marilyn Chistensen, who will complete the intermediate teaching assignment at Badger School left vacant by O'Hearn; and two new teachers, Peter B. Miles and Mrs. Suzanne Hartkopf, both recent graduates of Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh. All are effective immediately.

A resignation was accepted from Frederick Snyder, communicative arts instructor at Roosevelt Junior High, who has accepted a remedial reading instructors position with a Co-operative Educational Service Agency in the state.

Also resigning were Joseph J. Vareka, physical therapist at Morgan School, who will be joining a clinic at Two Rivers; Miss Nancy Wickeham, Spanish instructor at Wilson Junior High; Gary L. Woodward, intermediate teacher at Edison, and Mrs. Barbara Godin, kindergarten teacher at McKinley School.

Contracts for the 1966-67 school year will be distributed this week to all returning teachers. William Spears, superintendent, announced.

Seek Council Okay to Draw Avenue Plans district plan that the avenue be landscaped but was undecided on how the beautification program should be carried out.

It was disclosed that downtown merchants have proposed a design which would have the street 64 feet wide in some places and 48 feet wide in others, and include mid-block crosswalks. The narrower part of the street would have extended curb ends.

The committee generally felt the street should have straight curbs but said it had no objection to landscaping the avenue.

Not in Position

Bues said he was not in a position to recommend whether College Avenue should have a straight 64-foot width, or be designed so that it has extended island-like curbs and other unique features as representatives of the merchants have proposed.

Cost of the street construction will be absorbed by the property owners on College Avenue through special assessments.

"The council should decide between one of the two street design concepts," Bues said, "and then we can get to work and start drawing up the preliminary construction plans."

Decision Needed

"We don't want to get started on preliminary drawings and then have changes made," Bues said, "because any changes in design at that point would mean starting all over again."

He said the downtown was so complicated in its arrangement of underground utilities that one complete plan for the street project will have to be drawn.

"We have to take a look at the overall picture once the planning gets started," Bues said. "There is no such thing as planning this stage by stage."

Two other lawyers had been appointed but withdrew after Cornelius declined their services and said he wanted Cain, who had indicated only a few days ago he would accept the assignment.

The new development means that the arraignment of Cornelius probably will proceed after Sigman has had an opportunity to confer with the youth.

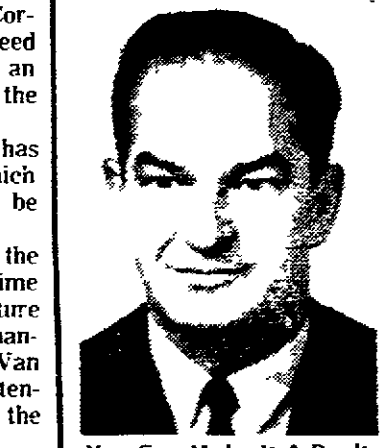

The Milwaukee youth has been found indigent which means counsel for him will be at county expense.

Cain stated in his letter the case would take too much time because of its complex nature and there have been no financial arrangements Judge Van Susteren said he had no intention of appointing Cain to the case.

Judge VanSusteren Monday told Cornelius and repeated this morning "I am going to find an attorney to be assigned to this case and there will be no further conversation about it. If you do not cooperate with him or if you discharge him, you will be without an attorney."

Monday the judge had attempted for the second time to name Attorney Frederick E.

Menominee Officials to Meet With Congressmen at Capital

Will Discuss Ways of Getting Federal Assistance for Tribe

Wisconsin congressmen will have expressed concern about the current financial condition of Menominee Enterprises, Inc., Menominee of the tribe and county and the Basin Planning Commission federal action on their problem.

Wednesday in Washington D.C. items to consider ways of obtaining federal assistance for the Menominee Indians.

Discussion will center on four points:

—To secure prompt action on the Lard-Nelson bill which provides for extending the phaseout period of federal aid an additional 10 years from the original five years.

Consider Aids

—To consider any aids or assistance existing under federal legislation which could be used.

—To consider action for leasing of Menominee lands by the state of Wisconsin until a permanent federal-state program can be established.

—Immediate introduction of the Wolf River national scenic waterways bill, containing suggestions made at a Green Bay meeting Feb. 5 and those made by the board of Menominee Enterprises.

The Washington parley was arranged at the Green Bay meeting, which was attended by the Sen. Gaylord Nelson, Reps. Henry Reuss and John Rarke.

State Sen. Reuben LaFave, representatives of the Menominee Enterprises and County and Gordon Bubolz, chairman of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission and member of the Menominee Enterprises executive committee.

Scenic Waterway

The Green Bay meeting was held to discuss the provisions of a bill prepared by Reuss to create a scenic waterway along the Wolf through Menominee and Langlade counties.

Those attending soon discovered there were immediate problems facing the Menominees which needed prompt attention.

State and tribal authorities respect to his own "earnest support of the most beneficial goals for the people of Wisconsin."

But, he said, the financial resources of the state are limited, and he wants assurance that they will be expended "prudently and well."

"We now have the attention of those people," he said, referring to the education administrators.

were being made to have him sworn in as the new circuit jurist.

Marquette Graduate

Murphy, a native of Waupun, is a graduate of the Marquette University Law School. He began practicing law in Fond du Lac in 1945 following his discharge from the Army. In 1951 he sought the Republican nomination for Wisconsin attorney general.

He was city attorney here five years, Fond du Lac County district attorney four years and was elected to the county judgeship, succeeding the late L. E. Lurvey in 1956.

Murphy will have to stand election in the spring of 1968.

Gov. Knowles has now asked the Fond du Lac County Bar to again poll its members and recommend a successor to Judge Murphy in branch 1 of County Court.

Paper Institute, Lawrence Share In 3M Firm Aids

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Nineteen Wisconsin colleges will share some $15,000 granted under the 3 M company's annual aid to education program.

The university will receive $3,300 for a technical fellowship in chemistry, $3,000 for an accountancy grant and one or more fellowships in the school of business administration and $1,000 for one or more undergraduate technical scholarships.

The Institute of Paper Chemistry at Appleton will receive $3,500 for a one year grant in aid for chemistry, Lawrence and Beloit $1,000 each for undergraduate scholarships and another $500 to Lawrence for a special physics program.

In addition, the Wisconsin Foundation of Independent Colleges will receive $2,000 for distribution to its member schools.

'Anatomy of Pop' Show Documentary on Music

Jingo Suggests Tonight's ABC Program Will Please Rock, Jazz, Country Buffs

BY JINGO
Anatomy of Pop: The Music such popular tunes as "The In-Explosion," a documentary "A Hard Day's Night" and journey to the roots of popular music in America, will be telecast by ABC tonight (9-10, day's popular music is more than current music; "it's electrical current music. Some of the show will be interesting, the kids playing it depend as much on electricity as on musical talent."

Advance publicity indicates the show will be interesting, the kids playing it depend as much on electricity as on musical talent."

For instance, the program is difficult for Jingo to see how Mr. Simon could have approached an examination of popular music objectively, but tonight's show will resolve that problem.

Jingo

Simon is not all thumb's down on pop music, however. He did admit that "some of the music and lyrics are as honest and fresh as the young people who make it." Not able to resist a dig, Simon continued, "But consultant, George Simon, call some of it is so contrived, so ed "the dean of American jazz manufactured, it's obvious that critics," said recently, "It's a making a buck is the paramount shame to see great jazz musi-thing." It seems jazz people cians starving or else having to sometimes are against a per- play less than their best to fit in former making money. with rock 'n' roll groups." The Performer Variety "less than their best" is an Perhaps the biggest factor obvious reference to the Ram- going for the show is the variety sey Lewis Trio, which has of stars who will appear. Rock fans will enjoy the Dave Clark Five, the Supremes and the Temptations. Folk connoisseurs will be able to see Peter, Paul and Mary, while those who prefer their music more on the conventional side will see Tony Bennett.

Jazz buffs will swing to Duke Ellington and Gene Krupa, country and western lovers will like Tex Ritter and members of the Grand Ole Opry troupe and show music fans will be able to see Richard Rodgers.

Diversity Good
ABC news producer Stephen Fleishman, who produced, wrote and co-directed the special, said the diversity of contemporary American pop music is its strength. "The various streams of American traditional music have come together," Fleishman said, "and we're the richer for it."

As the artists on the program will explain musically, popular music today ranges from Dixie-land to discotheque, and com-prises blues and blue grass, ragtime and rock 'n' roll, Broadway ballads and bebop and bossa nova, according to Fleishman.

Pointing out that pop music "is not a result of spontaneous generation, but has direct links to our American tradition, our cultural past," Fleishman noted the sounds sweeping the country represent the merging of an African and European musical heritage.

"Pop Explosion" he said, "is the result of the first major confluence of the many musical streams that have been running deep in our culture for nearly a century and have never converged before as they are doing now."

It appears as if both critics and fans alike will find tonight's special an interesting examination of a business that grosses close to a billion dollars in sales each year.

Pop Music Explosion Is Examined

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 — Channels 11-6-9 — Anatomy of Pop: The Music Explosion is an excellent special that digs deep in the heartland of America to uncover the trends in today's popular music. Producer Stephen Fleishman hasn't flinched on his research. The most effective scenes are of New Orleans, with its jazz musicians (now mostly gray-haired, but certainly not tired) grinding out tunes in funeral corteges and in the French Quarter. There are also interesting chats with Richard Rodgers and Duke Ellington, who aren't against rock 'n' roll but can't really understand its popularity. And exuberant performances from Grand Ole Opry regulars, the Dave Clark Five, Billy Taylor, the Supremes, Gene Krupa and Tony Bennett.

6:30-7:30 — Channels 11-6-9 — Combat has another gritty exercise in teaching the young to grow up under fire. Center of attention is Mart Hulsmit, a swaggering young GI who claims to have more battle scars than Gettysburg. He, of course, is bluffing and this you know right away when he tags along with Vic Morrow on an important mission.

6:30-7:30 — Channels 2-7-12 — There's some growing activity on Dakari, Marshall Thompson, as the gallant African animal doctor, is constantly seeing spots before his eyes. When some scientists hire a hunter to bag some pesty leopards, Thompson sets out to cage the beasts. (Color)

7-7:30 — Channels 4-5 — For a moment or two on Please Don't Eat the Daisies it looks as if the Nashes will sell their big ugly house. Both Jim and Joan have had it. So they enlist Pat Carroll as their real estate agent and there are some funny lines as she gingerly pressures architect Gene Blakely into buying the monstrosity. (Color)

7:30-8 — Channels 11-6-9 — McHale's Navy is certainly at its wackiest, but perhaps not its best "Secret Chimp 007" is a goofy take-off on the James Bond adventures. A. G. Vitanza, a gypsy with a mischievous chimpanzee, upsets the swabbies.

7:30-8:30 — Channels 2-7-12 — The Red Skelton Hour is in good humor thanks to guest star Ed Wynn who turns up as Col. Jungle-Rot in a sketch involving Freddie the Freeloader, who spends a night at an explorer's club. Also around is singer Donna Loren.

8-8:30 — Channels 11-6-9 — "Spy: Counterspy, Counter Counterspy," on F Troop is a trim lil' adventure for the boys of Fort Courage. While Forrest Tucker is selling moccasins to the Hekawis (who are made in Japan), Washington sends some new, secret bullet-proof vests to keep the troopers safe from the Indians.

8:30-9 — Channels 11-6-9 — For Those who care: Mia Farrow, as Allison Mackenzie, reveals her "Peter Pan" haircut on Peyton Place.

9-10 — Channels 2-12 — CBS Reports on "The Divorce Dilemma," a talky and not particularly revealing documentary. A flock of lawyers, ministers and marriage counselors are interviewed, and they freely give their opinions in verbose statements.

Chamberlain Passes Pettit In NBA Scoring

76ers' Ace Scores 41 Points to Exceed All-Time Mark by 4

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — This was the big one Wilt Chamberlain wanted most. And now he's got it — all-time leading scorer in the National Basketball Association.

"Sure, this has to be the big one for me and it is," the 7-foot-1 Philadelphia 76ers ace said Monday night after collecting 41 points to break the career mark set by the now-retired Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks.

Wilt's scoring spurge powered the 76ers past the Detroit Pistons 149-123 and spiraled Chamberlain's seven-year NBA total to 20,884, four over Pettit's standard.

In the only other game played Dick Barnett scored 32 points in sparking the New York Knicks to a 138-125 victory over the San Francisco Warriors.

"This means more to me than anything, even more than scoring 100 points," Wilt said, referring to his 100-point performance against New York in a game four years ago.

"This May Stick"

"The scorers are getting better and better and I think someone will score 100 points, or maybe more," he said. "But this one may stick around for a while. And this means a lot because it means a sustained performance over a long time. Yep, I really wanted this."

Before some 5,000 fans in the Charleston Civic Center he played the role of playmaker in the first half and tallied only 10 points as Philadelphia ran up a 70-51 margin.

"That was the way it was supposed to be," Wilt said. "We looked real bad in our last two games and we wanted to shake the offense loose. This was the best way to do it but it meant I wasn't going to do much scoring."

"Oh, sure! I went after the record when we were 'way out front in the last quarter and the guys started to move the ball to me," Wilt said.

He went into the last 12 minutes with 22 points and then they started to come furiously. He dropped in six field goals and a free throw and the crowd started to chant, "give it to Wilt."

A stuff shot with 2:46 remaining gave him 37 points to tie Pettit's record and a free throw with one minute and 32 seconds left gave him the record.

NFL Attracts Record Gate Of 4,634,021

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The National Football League drew a paid attendance of 4,634,021 fans in 1965, setting a record for the fifth consecutive year. The total represented 83 per cent of capacity.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said today there was an increase of 70,972 over 1964. An average of 47,286 fans paid to see the 98 regular season games with 57 sellouts.

The record season followed a preseason schedule that drew 1-290,479 fans for 37 games. The Western Conference title playoff between Green Bay and Baltimore drew 49,527, the championship game 50,777, the Playoff Bowl in Miami 65,569 and the Pro Bowl in Los Angeles 60,124.

The first year for which attendance figures were available 1934, showed a total of 492,674. The league hit the million mark in 1939, two million in 1952, three million in 1958 and four million in 1962.

Green Sidelined For Rest of Year

BOSTON (AP) — Teddy Green, the Boston Bruins' hard-hitting defenseman, may be lost to the National Hockey League club for the remainder of the season.

Green, who injured his knee in a scuffle with Chicago's Eric Nesterenko Jan. 27, has been released from the hospital, but faces extensive treatment before he can even resume skating.

The doctor says the cast may be taken off Ted's knee Thursday, but then will come a series of whirlpool treatments.

Coach Milt Schmidt said Monday: "I probably will be two or three weeks before he is able to start skating again."

Springs, St. Gregory to Clash In Regional Elimination Tilt

Pairings for WCIAA Tourney Are Announced

Fond du Lac St. Mary Springs will meet St. Gregory of St. Nazianz at Oshkosh Lourdes Feb. 24 in the elimination game of the Region 5 Catholic high school basketball tournament.

The winner of the Springs-St. Gregory contest will compete in the Feb. 25 semi-finals at Menasha High School.

If Springs wins Feb. 24, it will face defending regional champion Appleton Xavier Feb. 25, with Lourdes due to meet Menasha St. Mary in the other. If St. Gregory wins its opener, it will meet Lourdes Feb. 25, with St. Mary and Xavier paired in the other. (Teams are paired alphabetically, according to school name, with team No. 1 meeting 2 and 3 meeting 4.)

No Elimination Game The Marinette regional (4) will require no elimination game. Little Chute St. John meets Green Bay Premontre in the Feb. 25 opener, with Marinette meeting DePere Pennings in the other.

Finals in most of the eight regional tourneys are set for Feb. 27. The exceptions are Wisconsin Rapids Assumption and Chippewa Falls McDonell, where title games are set for Feb. 25.

The 37th annual state Catholic meet is slated for Milwaukee March 4-6.

Bear Coach at NFL Parley

Halas' Wife, Min, Dies In Chicago Apartment

By JOE MOOSHIL CHICAGO (AP) — Death is untimely, unexpected. That was the case for Min Halas, wife of George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

Mrs. Halas passed away Monday night at the age of 70 in her Edgewater Beach apartment on Chicago's north shore.

Halas was in Palm Beach, Fla., attending a National Football League meeting.

It was a great love affair which started before their 1922 wedding date. It was hard to believe because Min seemed as indestructible as George, 71, and George gives the impression that he'll go on forever.

Mrs. Halas has to go down in history as a woman who not only loved her man but who also loved his work. From the very beginning when Halas was moulding the National Football League, she kept scrapbooks.

"She has such a pile of books," Halas once said, "that I have to rent another apartment to keep them in."

With Halas in Florida for the NFL meetings, Mrs. Halas had a dinner engagement with her husband's secretary. When Mrs. Halas failed to appear, Mrs. Frances Osborne, Halas' secretary, went to the Halas apartment and found Mrs. Halas in bed dead.

Together Rivalled The Halas' togetherness was rivalled in sports only by the husband-wife team of the Amos Alonzo Stages.

Min had children, two of them. They are Virginia Marion and George Stanley.

She was also mother to numerous Bear players through the years.

Wisconsin Lawyers Nudge Antitrust Suit Step Closer to Trial

Judge Roller Again Refuses to Set Starting Date Back

By KEN HARTNETT MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin lawyers have nudged the state's antitrust suit against baseball a step closer to trial while taking polshits at what one of them called a "patsy proceeding" in Georgia.

Circuit Judge Elmer Roller refused Monday night to delay the Feb. 28 starting date for the trial. Baseball lawyers wanted a postponement to July 1.

Wisconsin lawyers predicted the trial could result in a clash between two court orders, one directing the Braves to play in Atlanta next season and one, if the state wins, ordering the Braves to play in Milwaukee.

Willard Stafford, special counsel for Wisconsin in the antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League, said that depending on the trial verdict "there may or may not be a conflict with this patsy proceeding in Georgia."

25-Year Contract He referred to the injunction issued last week by Judge Sam Phillips McKenzie in Fulton County Superior Court directing the Braves to meet the terms of their 25-year contract with the Atlanta Stadium Authority.

Stafford disputed the Georgia court's indication that an escape clause in the Braves' Atlanta contract did not mean the team could be released to return to Milwaukee on court order.

He charged that particular contract interpretation was "conjured up in a little love match in Georgia."

The contract clause in dispute reads: "Neither the Authority (the Atlanta Stadium management) nor the club shall be obligated to perform any term or condition of this agreement on its part to be performed, to the extent such performance is prevented... (C) by any decree, judgment, law, regulation or order of any public authority regulating or restricting the club in conducting baseball operations."

Defense Motions The reference to the Georgia injunction came during a hearing on two key defense motions. The first asked the court to lift its temporary order directing the Braves and the National League to prepare to place a team in Milwaukee this season.

The second asked the court to delay the trial.

Roller reserved decision on the first motion while denying the second on grounds that the defense had raised no new objections to the trial date.

Bowie Kuhn, lawyer for the league, told Roller that his order to map plans to play in Milwaukee could cost baseball millions of dollars, run some teams, and bankrupt the Braves.

Kuhn said expansion in 1966 is impossible and submitted affidavits.

NFL Clubs Will Freeze 29 In Atlanta Stocking Plan

Falcons Get First Look at List Today

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The new Atlanta Falcons get their first look today at the list of veteran players their 14 National Football League brethren will make available.

Falcons owner Rankin Smith, who paid a reported $8.5 million for the franchise and Norb Hecker, his coach, both called the stocking plan "very fair."

They will have about 24 hours to make known their 42 picks.

The NFL owners argued and labored for 5 1/2 hours Monday afternoon and evening before devising a formula for stocking the baby franchise with veterans.

"I think it is a better plan than when Dallas and Minnesota were stocked," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle, "because of the number available, the draft and the players already signed."

Using the 40-man player rosters that opened the 1965 season as a base, the clubs are allowed to freeze 29 players. Atlanta then takes one of the remaining 11 from each of the 14 teams.

The teams then freeze two more players and Atlanta selects two more of the eight remaining on each list.

At the end of the process the Falcons will have 42 men with NFL experience in 1965 plus 32 rookies and 19 veteran free agents already signed.

Atlanta had first and last pick in each of the first five rounds of the college draft last November.

The original 40-man rosters will include any players who were removed later because of injuries but still remained under control of the club.

Players who started the season and then were traded or transferred on waivers will not be on the list.

However, each list will contain 40 names, including the men who replaced traded or

Bluedevils Romp Over Superior as Sevals Gets Only 12

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Stout has made official what has been common knowledge for three days. The Bluedevils are taking home the Wisconsin State University Conference basketball crown.

Stout clinched at least a tie for the title by shelling Superior 84-68 Monday night and a victory in either of the Bluedevils' two remaining games will wrap up the honors.

The rout of Superior raised Stout's record to 13-1 compared with 10-3 for second-place Oshkosh, a 67-66 victim of Stout in the title showdown Saturday night.

Stout's Mike Thompson limited Superior's high-scoring Jim Sevals to just 12 points and blocked three of the 10 shots he let him get off in leading the Bluedevils to their latest triumph.

Thompson was among four Bluedevils in double figures. Willie White topped Stout's scoring with 17 points.

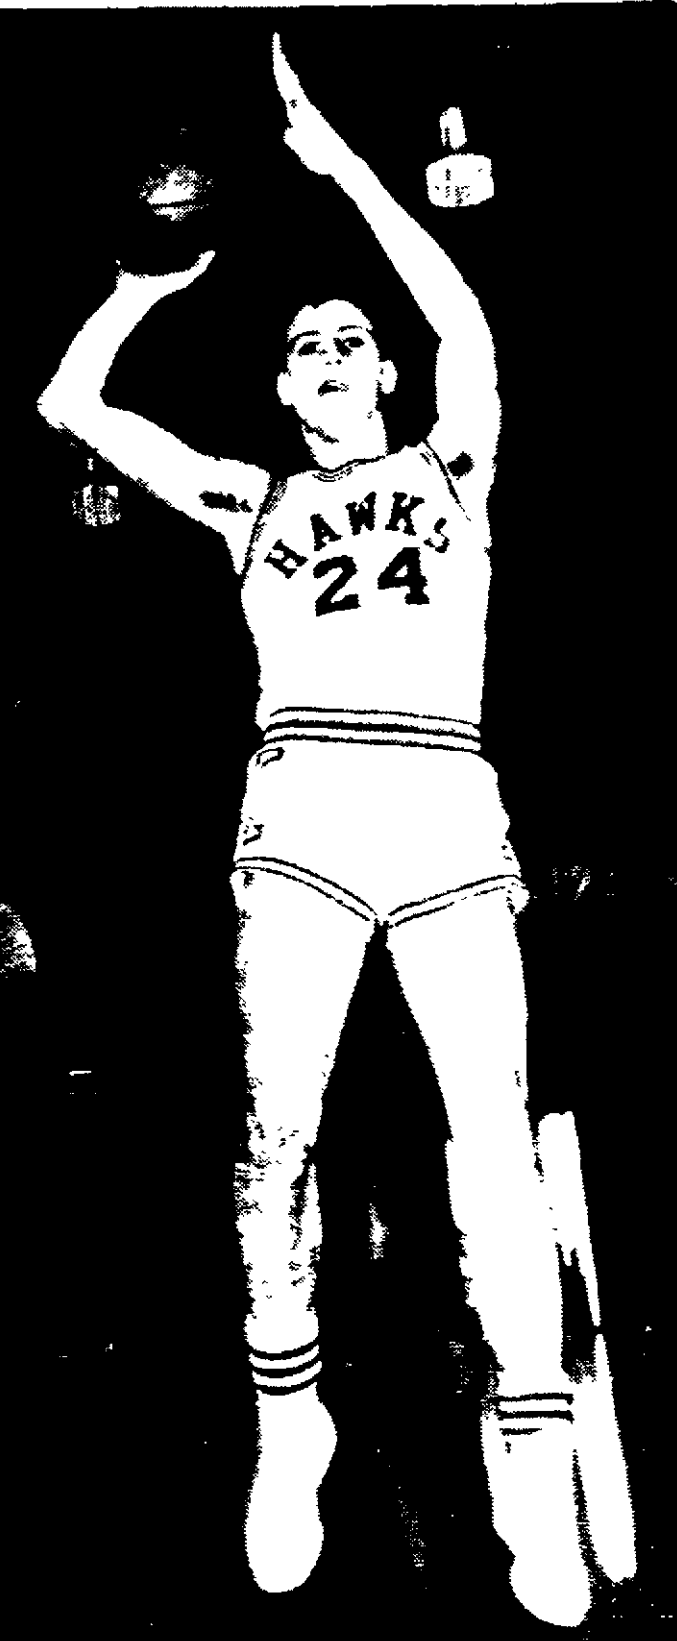

La Crosse, which outdistanced runnerup Stout for the 1965 crown, tightened its hold on third place Monday night by edging River Falls 88-87 in a game that was tied eight times.

John Johnson broke the last deadlock with a field goal for a 73-71 lead with 7:07 to go and the Indians quickly opened an 83-77 gap. Ace Stadhaus had 21 points and Johnson 19 as La Crosse boosted its WSUC record to 8-4.

Texas Prep Coach Added to UW Staff

Lewis Ritcherson Will Tutor Offensive Ends and Backs

MADISON (AP)—Lewis Ritcherson, a 39-year-old Negro with an impressive record as a Texas high school coach, was hired today as an assistant football coach at the University of Wisconsin.

Athletic director Ivan B. Williamson said the addition of Ritcherson completes the school's football staff realignment. Wisconsin recently signed Mike McGee, an assistant coach at Duke, and Roger French, an assistant at Memphis State.

Ritcherson was head football coach at Moore High School in Waco, Texas for 16 years. His teams compiled an overall winning record of 132-38-3.

As a member of the Wisconsin staff, Ritcherson will be one of two Negro coaches in the Big Ten conference. The other is Frank Gilliam of Iowa.

Ritcherson is a graduate of Wiley College in Texas. He received a master's degree from Prairie View A & M in 1960. At Wiley he played end and full-back.

Will Coach Offense Wisconsin coach Milt Bruhn said Ritcherson would coach the squad's offensive ends and backs.

The realignment of Wisconsin's football staff began in December when Bruhn narrowly averted losing his job following his worst season as head coach of the Badgers.

Wisconsin finished seventh in the Big Ten with a 2-5 record. Playoff Bowl recently went to and 2-7-1 over-all. The Badgers CBS for an undisclosed sum and lost their last five games and rights to the Pro Bowl game in the skein absorbed defeats of 50-14 to Michigan, 45-7 to Purdue and 51-0 to Illinois.

In January, assistant coaches Fred Marsh and Paul Shaw were reassigned to other posts in the athletic department. The third vacancy on Bruhn's staff was created by the death of Clark Van Galder.

2 NFL Title Tilts to Cost CBS $4 Million

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The National Football League signed another multi-million dollar television contract with the Columbia Broadcasting System today — selling rights to the next two championship games for $4 million.

CBS will pay $2 million each for the 1966 and 1967 title games and has an option for the 1968 game. The network, which recently purchased television rights for NFL regular season games for the next two years for a total of $37.6 million, paid $1.8 million each to televise the last two championships.

Television rights for the NFL Playoff Bowl recently went to and 2-7-1 over-all. The Badgers CBS for an undisclosed sum and lost their last five games and rights to the Pro Bowl game in the skein absorbed defeats of 50-14 to Michigan, 45-7 to Purdue and 51-0 to Illinois.

Gophers Battle Iowa Tonight; Buckeyes Lose

Walker, Johnson Lead Indiana to 81-61 Win Over OSU

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Minnesota's Gophers put their Big Ten title hopes on the line at Iowa tonight.

The Gophers, currently in third place with a 5-2 record, will have to do what no other Big Ten team has been able to accomplish this season — defeat the Hawkeyes on the Iowa floor.

Iowa (3-4) on the other hand has been unable to win on the road and thereby has been eliminated from title consideration.

If successful at Iowa, the Gophers would climb into a second place tie with Michigan State, one game behind league-leading Michigan with its 7-1 record.

Indiana hit 50 per cent of its second half shots and went on to an 81-61 victory over Ohio State Monday night. The victory lifted the Hoosiers into a sixth place tie with Northwestern and Ohio State.

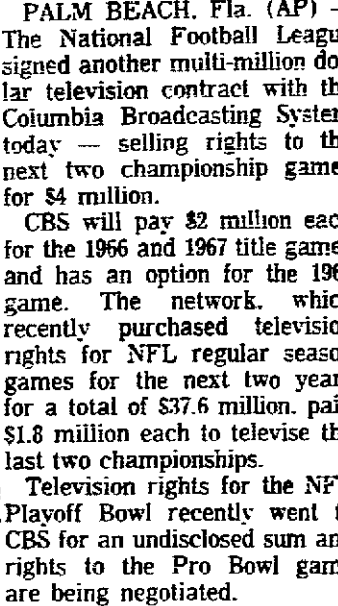

Bob Dove of Ohio State led all scorers with 22 points but Indiana had six men in double figures led by Jack Johnson and Max Walker with 18 points each.

Big Ten teams face a full schedule Saturday with all the games being played in the afternoon. Iowa is at Ohio State in a regionally televised affair, Michigan State is at Wisconsin, Minnesota at Illinois, Northwestern at Indiana and Purdue at Michigan.

with the co-favorites clashing in the first round. Milwaukee Pius XI (17-1) and Milwaukee Messmer (16-2), boasting the best records among the 38 teams in the tourney, will meet a week from Friday night in the Messmer regional.

Pius, ranked No. 6 in the state, is tied with Messmer for first place in the Milwaukee area Catholic Conference heading into a showdown this Thursday night.

Top Choices

Pius and Messmer are top picks to succeed defending champion Milwaukee Marquette (9-9), but the list of potential titlists is hardly brief. Other strong teams include No. 9 Appleton Xavier (15-2), only other Catholic team to crash the state prep rankings: Racine St. Catherine (15-3), only conqueror of Pius; Eau Claire Regis (15-4); Stevens Point Pacelli (13-4); and Superior Cathedral (13-4).

Milwaukee Marquette has improved after a shaky start this season but still may encounter considerable difficulty in surviving the regional round.

The 37 games in the 37th annual tournament start Feb. 22 with elimination affairs at Chippewa Falls, Kenosha and the two Milwaukee regional. Elimination games will be played Feb. 24 at La Crosse and Oshkosh, the latter as part of the Menasha regional.

Wisconsin Rapids and Marinette, with four-team fields compared to five at the other sites, will start play Feb. 25.

The road to the finals: Chippewa Falls — Superior Cathedral and Eau Claire Regis are expected to win their sections of the split regional and collide in the finale Feb. 26.

La Crosse — Madison Edgewood (13-5), four-time state champion, brings the best record into the regional, but Prairie du Chien Champion (8-9) will be no pushover.

Wisconsin Rapids — Stevens Point Pacelli opens against Wausau Newman (9-9) while Wisconsin Rapids Assumption (11-8) and Marshfield Columbus (9-9) round out a field that doesn't have a single team with a losing record.

Marinette — De Pere Penning (10-6), successor to six-time champion De Pere St. Norbert which won the title more times than any other school, will be a slight favorite.

Menasha — The luck of the draw will send Appleton Xavier against Fond du Lac Springs (9-9), which recently upset the Hawks, if Springs survives its elimination game.

Milwaukee Messmer — Pius and Messmer may decide the whole tourney in the first round.

Milwaukee Notre Dame — Defending champ Marquette faces a free-for-all.

Retza Leads Blind Keglers With a 520

Rod Retza, Appleton, had the high individual series, but the Oshkosh team took first place in a match game tournament for blind and visually handicapped persons at Sabre Lanes Sunday afternoon.

A total of 40 bowlers participated and the event drew a large crowd of spectators.

Retza smacked a 520 series and the set included a 182 game. High women's series also went to an Appleton kegler as Mrs. Virginia Howe fired a 502 series.

The Oshkosh team had a total pinfall of 3,749. Appleton placed second with 3,710 and Green Bay was third with 3,565.

High games for Oshkosh included Herb Pitz with 190 and Mrs. Dianne Reeves, 187. Leading Green Bay was Fred Schiffer with 178 and Miss Alice Drochue with 151. Retza's 182 topped the Appleton men and Mrs. Lucille Daigo led the women with a 180.

Prizes were furnished by Adler Brau, Gilbert Paper Company, Kimberly-Clark, Marathon, Stop and Shop and Sabre Lanes.

Marilyn Klevesahl led the way in the Kitchen Cheaters circuit at Hahn's Lanes with a 534 trio. Hilda Neumann's 220 was the pace-setting game. Drea Vandenberg totaled 525.

Other honor tallies in the Kitchen loop were Min Holland's 202, Irene Mittelstadt's 205 and 209 and Virginia Tegen's 501.

Irene Deltgen's 518 series set the pace in the Four for Fun League at Hahn's, while Anna Knaus posted marks of 209 and 511.

Falcons Begin Picking Players

waived players. The only club that didn't make a change with Green Bay.

For instance, both Johnny Unitas and Gary Cuzzo will appear on the Baltimore list of 40 although they were injured and not active at the end of the season. Both, of course, will be frozen by the Colts.

Larry Morris, veteran Chicago Bear linebacker who was lured out of retirement after the season started, is not on the Bears' 40-man list because he didn't open the season. Larry, a Georgia Tech alumnus, reportedly is anxious to play with the new team. If the Falcons get him it will have to be by a trade.

When the Falcons decide they are interested in a player who is eligible for selection they will be given detailed reports on military status, physical condition and contractual data by the team that owns his contract. Once selected a player cannot be traded back to his old team for two years.

Special Privileges

The Atlanta club also will be granted a number of special privileges. They can go to training camp at any date desired and they do not have to adhere to the 60-man training camp limit.

The Falcons do not have to cut the squad until the Tuesday before opening day and may keep six more than the player limit, currently 40, for two weeks. They can keep two over the regular player limit the remaining weeks of the season but can suit up only 40 of them for any one game. Atlanta also will get first choice on all waivers until opening day.

Among the proposals to be considered by the owners during the current meeting is a suggestion to increase the player limit from 40 to 42.

When Dallas was admitted in 1960 it did not have the benefit of the college draft and was permitted to pick from 11 men on the 36-man rosters. When Minnesota was stocked in 1961 the Vikings did have a college draft and picked from eight men on the 38-man rosters. In each case the Cowboys and Vikings got only 36 players.

The clubs will not release the names of those who are to be exposed to Atlanta selection for obvious reasons. However, names like Johnny Sample and Rick Casares of the Washington Redskins are expected to be included.

John McKenna, head football coach at Virginia Military Institute since 1953, resigned Monday to become administrative assistant to Coach Bobby Dodd at Georgia Tech.

McKenna's resignation was announced "with deep regret" by VMI's superintendent, Maj. Gen. George R. E. Snell.

The VMI coach, three times southern Conference coach of the year during his 13 years at the institute, also will be Georgia Tech's freshman football coach and supervisor of maintenance for physical training.

Salisbury, Md. (AP) — Dennis Ralston and Arthur Ashe will be shooting for more than silverware when they open fire tonight in the National Indoor Tennis Championships.

Their eyes will be fixed on the $100,000 pot of gold awaiting one of them at the end of the season's rainbow.

That's the figure Jark Kramer, the pro impresario, has set as the lure for the one who emerges as the No. 1 figure in American tennis.

"We are interested in both of them," Kramer says. "But Dennis thinks this will be his year. He is sure he can take Ashe, having beaten him five times last year without a loss, and he knows Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle have lost some of their spark."

"He wants to win Wimbledon, the U.S. title and the Davis Cup and then hit us for a bundle — he can do it, too."

Ashe also has expressed interest in a pro career but, like Ralston, he wants first to make his amateur mark and gain a better bargaining position.

Some observers regard Ashe, 22-year-old Negro from Richmond, Va., as only a step away from being the world's best amateur. This estimate is based on Ashe's brilliant Australian campaign, in which he won four tournaments, and his three successive triumphs over Australia's Roy Emerson.

Both Ralston and Ashe are aiming for the major championships this year and a successful bid for the Davis Cup. The indoor here, having drawn the world's top players, is the first major test.

Ralston, seeded No. 1, plays Yugoslav's tough Boro Jovanovic in the first round while Ashe, No. 2, goes against Jadeep Mukerjee, the young Indian.

Czech Boxer Brought Back to Life After His Heart Stops

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak physicians Monday fought desperately to keep 19-year-old featherweight boxer Frantisek Merecek alive after he died and was brought back to life again.

Merecek fought in a match in western Bohemia Sunday, and was knocked out unconscious in the second round after a series of hard blows on his chest and head, the news agency CTK reported.

Kentucky Quint Defeats Alabama; Duke Survives Stall

Midwestern Tips LeTourneau, 9-8, In Battle of Small Texas Schools

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

South Carolina gave Duke the cold shoulder on Valetine's night but it didn't break the Blue Devils' hearts this time.

The Gamecocks, who had stunned second-ranked Duke last December, tried a freeze at Durham, N.C., that must have had Dan Cupid shivering Monday night but the Blue Devils hung on for a 41-33 Atlantic Coast Conference victory.

Duke, with high-scorer Bob Verga sitting out his second straight game for disciplinary reasons, shot into a 29-20 lead with a minute gone in the second half when South Carolina put on the stall.

The Gamecocks' slowdown and some erratic shooting by Duke narrowed the lead to 34-31 with 4½ minutes to play. But Steve Vacendak hit two long jumpers and Jack Marin sank three free throws that kept the Blue Devils on top.

"Our One Chance"

"We couldn't run with them," reasoned South Carolina Coach Frank McGuire, defending his freeze. "It was our one chance."

South Carolina's slowdown looked like a fast break compared to the icebergs Midwestern and LeTourneau Tech, two small Texas schools, exchanged.

Midwestern scored the first two baskets of the game and it was 4-2 when LeTourneau, which had lost 82-56 the first time the two teams met, went into a stall with 16:50 left in the first half. Midwestern led 7-6 at the half.

The teams each managed one basket in the second half with the first points coming after 13½ minutes of stalling. The final score was Midwestern 9, LeTourneau 8 and the best news came after the final gun.

The two schools decided they won't play each other anymore. The nation's top six teams in The Associated Press poll all played and won with Duke and third-ranked Texas Western getting the closest calls. The Miners edged Arizona State 69-67 despite 30 points by the losers Freddie Lewis.

Top-ranked Kentucky won its 20th, walloping Alabama 90-67.

Loyola of Chicago, ranked fourth, shot 56 per cent and routed Western Michigan 107-75.

Vanderbilt, No. 5, wiped out a 12-point deficit and defeated Auburn 91-76.

Revamp Probably Won't Alter Status System in Congress

Joint Committee Studies Opinion On Ways of Increasing Efficiency

BY WILLIAM ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — A special committee studying proposals to make Congress more efficient isn't likely to advocate any tampering with the time honored seniority system.

The committee, composed of six senators and six representatives, is combing through 2,063 pages of testimony and documents submitted during hearings last year. It has until the end of this year to make recommendations.

"But you can bet," a member said privately today, "that whatever recommendations we come up with, we don't propose any substantial changes in the seniority system."

The seniority system provides for advancement in Congress through the process of continued re-election and longevity. That is why most of the committee chairmen are older men. The average age of a committee chairman is 66.

Unwritten Laws
While there is nothing in the rules saying the seniority system must be followed, there is an unwritten law supporting it. Only once in recent history has the system been disregarded when a promotion was in order. Last year the House moved Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss., from the No. 2 spot on the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee to the bottom of the list. Had that not happened, Williams would be chairman today because the chairman must be the senior member of the committee.

300 Recommendations
Of the estimated 300 recommendations given to the reorganization committee, about 20 deal with the seniority system.

They would require chairmen to step down at the age of 70, rotate chairmanships among senior members, let each committee elect its own chairman by secret ballot, limit to 16 or 12 years the time a member could serve as a chairman, consider all members with 20 or more years of service equal in seniority, and limit the number of committee chairmanships that could be held by members from the same geographical area.

The geographical limitation would hit the South hardest. Nine of the 16 Senate committees are headed by Southerners, as are 11 of the 20 House committees.

23 Pupils Hurt In Bus Mishap At Monticello

NEW GLARUS, Wis. (AP) — Twenty-three pupils ranging in age from 6 to 15 were injured Monday as a school bus overturned into a ditch near Monticello.

One boy was hospitalized. The other pupils were released after treatment.

Paul Derendinger, 9, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Derendinger of rural Belleville, was listed in satisfactory condition at a Monroe hospital. Doctors said he suffered a broken nose and other injuries.

The bus was driven by Richard G. Wainwright, 37, a wife left their Winston-Salem home Aug. 13 to drive to Milwaukee. Green County sheriff's deputies quoted Wainwright as saying he lost control of the vehicle when he reached for an unattended music instrument case that was about to slide down the bus steps.

The pupils were en route to New Glarus schools when the accident happened on a rural road about four miles southeast of here.

New Glarus, a settlement of Swiss ancestry, is prominent for its cheese. It is located about 20 miles southwest of Madison.

Bookkeeper Accused Of Embezzling Funds From Sparta Oil Co.

SPARTA (AP)—Bond was set at $2,000 Monday for Mrs. Margaret Hart of Cataract, accused of embezzlement from the Sparta Oil Co.

Mrs. Hart was arraigned on a charge of taking about $4,000 from the firm where she was employed as a bookkeeper. Monroe County Judge William Curran set the bond pending a preliminary hearing.

Normal Total Of Meningitis, Center Reports

Health Service Official Lauds Quick Action by Military

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The number of cases of meningitis, a respiratory disease caused by bacteria, is normal for this time of year among civilians and military personnel, the Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center reports.

Dr. Philip S. Brachman of the CDC said latest figures show meningitis affected 58 civilians and 4 military personnel last week and not all of these cases revealed signs or symptoms. In a comparable period last year, the CDC listed 54 civilians and 9 military personnel with the disease.

Brachman said quick action taken at military bases probably has helped check the disease, since only three meningitis deaths among 124,000 basic trainees have been reported by the Army.

At Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex., six cases of meningitis are being treated after an outbreak that took one life last week.

Airmen Diverted
Training operations at the huge center are continuing but new airmen are being diverted to Amarillo Air Force Base.

At Ft. Dix, N.J., a fourth case of meningitis has been reported but Army officials say no emergency action is contemplated.

Lt. David R. McGonigle, information officer, said a similar number of cases occurred in past years and a three-point prevention program is continuing.

Branchman said meningitis is spread through coughing or sneezing but could be spread simply by talking.

The mortality rate is relatively low, the doctor official said, because of antibiotics. He said most deaths from meningitis occur because treatment is not started soon enough.

Meningitis symptoms include fever, stuffy nose, intense headache, possible nausea, vomiting and a stiff neck. A small rash also may occur.

7 Jurors Picked In Murder Trial of Former State Man

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Seven male jurors were selected as the first degree murder trial of Robert E. Porth, a missile engineer charged in the death of his wife, began Monday.

Porth, 57, pleaded innocent. The state contends he killed Mrs. Hilda Borchardt Porth, 56, whose body was found near Pulaskee, Va., Aug. 14.

Superior Court Judge George M. Fountain ordered a special venire of 100 be drawn for further selection of jurors today.

The regular venire of 28 was exhausted Monday.

The tall engineer, who worked on the Nike X project for the Western Electric Co. in Winston-Salem, has been in jail without bond since his arrest Sept. 6.

He has maintained that his wife left their Winston-Salem home Aug. 13 to drive to Milwaukee. He said it was not unusual for her to travel alone, and he said he often picked her up hitchhikers.

Deficit Declining Viet Nam Could Force Dollar Balance Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The T. Connor voiced a similar view. "We shall continue this reliance," Connor said of the voluntary cooperative program with American business. "And we are confident of another favorable outcome for the current year."

Spending Surplus
The 1965 deficit was less than half the $2.8-billion deficit of 1964 and the $2.7-billion deficit of 1963. It was the best showing since 1957 when the balance of payments — the difference between A.S. spending abroad and foreign spending in this country — showed a $520 million surplus.

Despite troubles in Southeast Asia, Fowler said the administration is still hopeful of achieving equilibrium in the day.

This means a deficit or surplus total for 1964 within $250 million of zero.

Fowler said the Viet Nam war suspensions and revocations in 1965 produced a dollar outflow about $250 million more than originally anticipated at the start of the year and the 1966 projections contain an additional outflow during 1966 as maiming 7,122 suspensions after a review of driving records.

Captured Flag Given to Florida School by Officers

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Four young combat officers, including a lieutenant from Wisconsin, presented a captured Viet Cong flag to University of Florida students Monday night at a mass rally capping the school's "Operational Appreciation."

The officers were honored in student events over the weekend and had dates with campus beauties. The students gave the captured flag to University of Florida students Monday night at a mass rally capping the school's "Operational Appreciation."

Adm. Johnson Addresses Pentagon

Bombings Hurt Viet Cong

WASHINGTON (AP) — The commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet says the Communists will be hard pressed to support their ground forces if the U. S. Navy and Air Force keep up the heavy bombing of supply and infiltration routes in Viet Nam. Except for these bombings

Adm. Roy L. Johnson told a day after Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and now a presidential adviser, said that "long troops would have been able to do a great deal more" in the war.

Johnson said that three of the five attack carriers of the 7th Fleet are kept continuously on station off the coast of South Viet Nam, from where they launch air strikes. The Navy has about 700 planes in the Southeast Asian waters, the admiral said.

Not Stop Troops
He said that the Air Force accounts for about 50 per cent of the bombing missions. "One that Johnson invited the signers service could not handle it of the 1954 Geneva agreement to another Geneva parity. The Johnson also made it clear that bombings will not completely stop enemy troop and supply movements. "I don't think there is anything like an absolute, 100 per cent interdiction," he told newsmen.

The White House said Johnson told Ribicoff that he has repeated the question, that if requested the States would go to Geneva if the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong, the Navy has a "versatile" capability, Johnson said, "including ability to conduct a quarantine."

The admiral's remarks came reciprocally.

Rent Subsidy Backers Favor New Guidelines

LBJ Asks Congress To Okay $30 Million Okayed for Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional advocates of federal rent subsidies were hopeful today that new guidelines would enable them to win the money to get the program started.

President Johnson asked Congress Monday to include in a supplemental appropriations bill the full $30 million authorized for the first year of the subsidy program.

He first made the request last year but Congress declined to vote any of the $30 million although it had authorized that sum in the big 1965 housing bill passed earlier in the session.

At the time the funds were turned down, there were charges at the Capitol that the proposed regulations for the program would allow comparatively well-off families to get the benefit of the subsidies.

Since that time the new Housing and Urban Development Department has prepared revised guidelines to limit strictly the incomes and assets of potential beneficiaries.

For example, an elderly couple participating in the program would be restricted to assets of $5,000, other persons to $2,000.

Backers of the program said they believed these restrictions now should be enough to tip the scales in their favor.

Johnson said Monday the subsidies were "vital to our efforts to improve the quality of life in America."

The program is designed to help cities overcome shortages of decent housing for low-income families.

State Suspends Record Total of Driver Permits

MADISON (AP) — A record 35,293 persons had their driver's licenses suspended in Wisconsin last year, the State Motor Vehicle Department reported Monday.

The department said 10,646 were mandatory. Court decisions accounted for 8,303 suspensions, the state's safety record for 9,132 and the department issued the regional net outflow during 1966 as maiming 7,122 suspensions after a review of driving records.

DO WE HAVE TO DIE?

A strange man in California tells of astonishing experiences in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. Here he lives among the lamas, mystic priests of the temple. "In your previous lifetime," a very old lama told him, "you lived here, a lama in this temple. You and I were boys together. I lived on, but you died in youth, and were reborn in England. I have been expecting your return."

The young Englishman was amazed as he looked around the temple where he was believed to have lived and died. It seemed uncannily familiar, he appeared to know every nook and corner of it, yet — at least in this lifetime — he had never been there before. And mysterious was the set of circumstances that had brought him there. Could it be a case of reincarnation, that strange belief in the East that souls return to earth again and again, living many lifetimes?

Because of their belief that he had formerly been a lama in the temple, the lamas welcomed the young man with open arms and taught him rare mystical and long-hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which have enabled many to perform amazing feats. He says that the system often leads to strange improvement in power of mind, can be used to further brilliant business and professional success as well as great happiness. The young man himself later became a noted explorer and geographer, a successful publisher of maps and atlases of the Far East, used throughout the world.

"There is in all men a sleeping giant of mindpower," he says. "When awakened, it can make man capable of surprising feats, from the prolonging of youth to success in many worthy endeavors." The method is said by many to promote improvement in health; others tell of increased bodily strength, courage and poise.

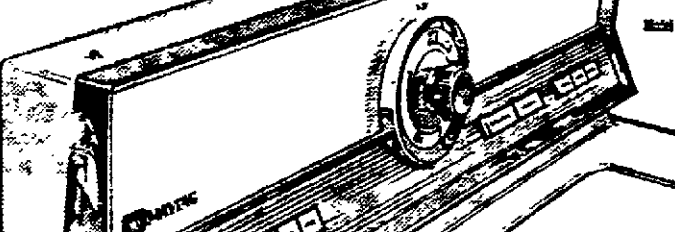

"The time is here for this long-hidden system to be disclosed to true seekers in the Western World," declares the author, and offers to send this amazing, 9,000-word Treatise — which reveals many startling results — to readers of this publication, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address The Institute of Mentalphysics, P.O. Box 460, Dept. 196, Yucca Valley, Calif. 92284. How to Save on Taxes

If Deductions Go Over Averages, Have Proof

BY SYLVIA PORTER (In collaboration with the Research Institute of America) Before you list any of your itemized deductions for contributions, interest, medical expenses or taxes, study the chart in this column showing average deductions claimed by persons in various adjusted gross income brackets.

These are not official figures, nor do they automatically entitle you to deduct the average amounts in your bracket. The ground rule remains: you can deduct only those amounts you actually paid for contributions, interest, medical expenses and taxes (except sales taxes, as explained later on.) You should be ready with checks, receipts, any other proof to back up your actual outlays in case the Treasury examines your return.

Watch Averages

But the average deduction figures are still exceedingly important to you, for they give you a valuable clue to whether your deductions will increase the odds that your return will be chosen for examination by a revenue agent. If the amount that you deduct for any of these items is substantially above the average, you hike your chances for an examination — and this is so even if you can prove you spent every dollar of the higher figure.

Because of changes in the tax law after these most recently available average deduction figures, the average figure for 1965 tax deductions should be a bit lower than the table indicates, while the average for medical expenses in 1965 should be slightly higher where medicines were bought for persons 65 or older.

Adjusted Gross Income	Contributions	Interest	Taxes	Medical
$ 5,000-$ 6,000	$192	$ 345	$ 341	$ 315
6,000- 7,000	216	418	405	304
7,000- 8,000	242	480	453	321
8,000- 9,000	264	530	522	340
9,000-10,000	296	581	577	355
10,000-15,000	363	667	708	430
15,000-20,000	541	842	999	650
20,000-25,000	718	1,015	1,280	908
25,000-50,000	1,138	1,374	1,900	1,308
50,000-$100,000	2,845	2,682	3,727	2,073

While the above table is entirely unofficial, the Internal Revenue Service does provide us with one official table to help us calculate our deductions for state and local sales taxes. You will find these tables of estimated sales tax deductions in the instruction pamphlet that comes with your Form 1040. Pick out the table for your state, find your income bracket, follow it across to the number of people in your family and there is the figure which the service will generally accept as your sales tax deduction without requiring any proof that you paid exactly that amount.

Car Sales Tax

Important note: You can deduct more than the estimate in the table if you can prove that you did pay more — as you well might if you bought big-ticket items last year. If you bought an auto in 1965, you can add the sales tax on that purchase to the figure in the table because the Treasury deliberately left out auto purchases when it constructed its tables. You also can deduct your gasoline taxes in addition to your sales tax in the table.

The estimated figures for California, Illinois and Utah already include local sales taxes that are imposed over and beyond the state sales tax. But local sales taxes in Alabama, Arizona, Colorado, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, New York, Tennessee and Wyoming must be estimated separately and added to the figure given in the table for the state tax. The Treasury says you do this "by adding to the figure in the table an amount based on the ratio between the local and state sales tax rates taking into consideration the number of months after the taxes have been in effect."

Sales Taxes Vary

Using this approach, Internal Revenue officials in the New York City area have prepared their own supplemental sales tax table which gives New York City residents their combined estimated sales tax deduction covering both the city and state sales taxes. If you can't get a copy of this table, you can work out the combined figure yourself by multiplying your estimated New York State sales tax from the table by 5.3. Thus a New York City family of four with a $10,000 adjusted gross income might deduct $153.70 for combined city and state sales taxes as against only $28 shown by the table for state sales tax alone. Youth Claims Champ Oyster Shucker Title FANNY BAY, B.C. (AP) — Johnny Zurich, 19, claims he is the world's champion oyster shucker. Johnny, who works full time at it in this Vancouver Island community, says he shucked 44 gallons and 2½ quarts in an eight-hour shift. He says the title formerly was held jointly by members of a 12-man local crew who shucked 39 gallons each in eight hours.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

SHOULD FATHERS EVER ADMIT THEY'RE WRONG? YES OR NO

Yes. Fathers aren't infallible, presumably higher titles. Still they make mistakes as all others wanted some special people do. Sometimes they fly pieces of equipment. Others off the handle and unjustly accuse or criticize their children when the fault lies within themselves. When that happens, admitting his error does his soul team.

Riverside Credit Union Elects Officials at 32nd Annual Meeting

Two directors and one credit committee member were elected recently at the 32nd annual dinner meeting of the credit union of Riverside Paper Corp. John Kamps, 218 Elm St., Kimberly, and Joe Sol, 326 Park Ave., Little Chute, were elected to the board of directors for three-year terms and Rose Keil, Kaukauna, was named to a three-year term on the credit committee.

Announce Flight Plan For Gemini 8 Trip; 3-Hour 'Walk' Slated

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A spectacular flight plan has been drawn up for America's next Gemini space adventure calling for a "walk in space" of nearly three hours — twice around the world and twice as long as most observers expected.

During his lengthy stroll, Gemini 8 astronaut David R. Scott will cling to the rear of the two-man capsule, looking like a man who almost missed his street car, while command pilot Neil A. Armstrong fires maneuvering rockets on the spacecraft to uncouple and couple with another satellite.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is now in the process of deciding whether the unmanned target will be an Agena rocket or a substitute satellite, called an Alternate Target Docking Adapter.

Agenda Failed

The space agency wanted to go with the Agena, but an Agena engine failed in a test chamber last Saturday and muddled plans. NASA has suspended further testing until a cause has been determined and corrected. Officials would prefer to use the Agena because it has a motor to maneuver it around, which the ATDA does not.

Whichever target is used, it

U. S. Will Produce Rice For Viet Nam

Farmers to Boost Acreage, Freeman Says in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said today U.S. rice farmers will increase their acreage so they can ship South Viet Nam as much of its staple food as it needs.

"We do not propose to let the Viet Cong or the speculators dominate the rice situation in Viet Nam," Freeman said at the end of a five-day visit. "We will bring in enough rice to see that this is true."

He said President Johnson already has authorized an increase in the U.S. rice acreage to provide enough to meet demands.

Big Import

Asked for an estimate of rice imports from the United States, Freeman said this would depend on how the situation develops. South Viet Nam once produced all the rice it needed but because of the war it must now import millions of tons.

The secretary said he found South Viet Nam's agriculture much more advanced than he had expected. He stressed that fertilizer is just as important as bullets in the war effort.

Freeman said he had found a firm resolve on both the military and civilian side that the "second front" will command "proper priority in the future."

His reference to a second front was to the work of pacification, rural reconstruction, development of the civilian economy and agriculture on which Johnson put chief emphasis at the Honolulu conference with the leaders of South Viet Nam's government.

Nuclear War In Viet Nam Called Unlikely

McNamara Told Senators U. S. Won't Crush Hanoi Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has told senators the United States doesn't aim to hole up in enclaves or to escalate the war by trying to crush Ho Chi Minh's regime in North Viet Nam.

For those who worry the conflict may inch toward a nuclear showdown, McNamara said he can't conceive of the United States using nuclear weapons in South Viet Nam.

McNamara's remarks were in previously censored testimony early this month before the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations committees but made public today on the eve of Senate debate on Viet Nam.

He revealed a report, based on interrogation of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese prisoners, which concluded that stepped-up U.S. action on the ground and in the air had tak-

FCC Issues New Rules On Cable TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission today asserted jurisdiction over all community antenna television—CATV—systems but wiped out its controversial 15-day nonduplication rule.

The commission said CATV systems will be required to avoid duplicating the programs of local television stations only on the day they are broadcast by the local stations — not 15 days before and after such a broadcast as the old rule had required.

The FCC imposed the 15-day rule last April in asserting jurisdiction over those CATV systems using microwave facilities to relay the programs of distant stations to the master CATV antenna.

The commission extended its control today to all 1,600 systems—including those that use only a master antenna to pull in television signals in the area. But it said it is revising the rules imposed last April to wipe out the 15-day rule completely.

Viet Cong today in Operation Eagle's Claw, swelling the troils the coastline constantly in known enemy dead in wide-search of Communist shipping spread Allied strikes over the last 36 hours to 497.

Air and artillery bombardments are estimated to have added 150 others in two sectors, on the central coast and in the Mekong delta.

Most of the action centered around Bong Son, 300 miles northeast of Saigon. This is the base of big maneuvers by American, South Vietnamese and South Korean troops now reported to have accounted for 1,683 communist dead since Jan. 25.

The 3rd Brigade of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division struck the Viet Cong today in valleys 12 miles southwest of Bong Son. A dispatch from the scene said casualties of the Americans were extremely light.

Find 100 Bodies

Troops scouring the area reported finding 100 bodies, victims of 12 passes Monday by two U.S. A1E fighter-bombers which caught the Viet Cong in the open and hit them with rockets, bombs and cannon fire.

South Vietnamese paratroopers 20 miles north of Bong Son, on one flank of the operation area, hit a Viet Cong stronghold of tunnels and trenches. U.S. artillery was called in, and a government spokesman said 200 enemy bodies were counted.

Government troops launched several operations in the Mekong Delta and claimed 110 Viet Cong killed and 6 captured in an hour-long battle 43 miles southwest of Saigon.

The U.S. Navy lost its first Swift patrol boat to a Viet Cong mine, and several of the six American crewmen were killed or injured.

Charge Man in Killing Of Rockford Girl, 11

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — A 25-year-old landscaper from California has been charged with murdering Susan Brady, an 11-year-old Rockford girl.

The man, Russell Charles Dewey, was arrested in San Diego Sunday by the FBI on a federal fugitive warrant. A murder warrant for Dewey's arrest was issued Monday by the Circuit Court in Rockford.

The moon-faced, 230-pound Dewey was accused of abducting Susan Dec. 20 and bludgeoning her to death in a house four miles from her home.

FBI agents on Jan. 20 found the charred fragments of teeth and bones of a child in a three-foot trash drum in the garage adjoining the home of Dewey's grandparents three miles outside Rockford.

Admits Responsibility
State's Atty. William R. Nash said California authorities told him that Dewey admitted responsibility for the death of a little girl in Rockford the evening of Dec. 20.

But Dewey said he accidentally struck the victim with his car, then "disposed of the body."

Dewey said Susan died in his 1961 Cadillac as he took her to a hospital said he drove to his grandparents' house and burned the body in the incinerator.

Rockford police said an eight-week FBI investigation produced evidence that Dewey bludgeoned Susan to death with a sledgehammer, then burned the body. Police said evidence indicated Susan was in the home of Dewey's grandparents, who were vacationing in Florida.

Hammer Found

Police said a sledgehammer smeared with blood was found in the garage a few feet from the 50-gallon drum that was used as an incinerator. Police said laboratory tests showed

Rep. Thomas
From Texas
Dies at 67

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Albert Thomas, veteran Democratic congressman from Texas, died today. He was 67.

A native of Nacogdoches, Tex., and a resident of Houston, Thomas had been a member of the House of Representatives for 15 two-year terms beginning with the 75th Congress of 1937.

Death was attributed to cancer, from which Thomas had long suffered. He died at his Washington home.

Thomas was a graduate of Rice University, and held a law degree from the University of Texas. He was a World War I veteran.

He was married and the father of two daughters, Mrs. Edward A. Lasater and Lera.

Dewey and the FBI traced Dewey from Rockford to Mexico and finally seized him when he returned to his mother's home in San Diego.

Susan disappeared on the evening of Dec. 20 while returning home from the house of a girl classmate in St. Patrick's Elementary School.

Humphrey Vows to Push U. S.-Viet Nam Peace Drive

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Humphrey told an audience: "My government has been and continues to be engaged in a most with a promise that the United States will push its so far unsuccessful offensive to bring peace in Southeast Asia."

He hailed the Tashkent agreement last month in which Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan and the late Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India took a conciliatory approach to Kashmir and other long-standing Indian-Pakistani differences.

Self-Help Theme

War on Poverty Shifts to Rural U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government hopes to begin a new kind of federal attack on poverty this year. The target is rural America. The initial cost is low and the theme is self-help.

The vehicle for the new government program is the Rural Community Development Service, a planning agency authorized last year. President Johnson has asked Congress for $5 million to give the agency the go-ahead to begin operations in all 50 states.

The service's main goal is to set up hundreds of rural planning districts and provide the incentive for them to tackle the problems in their areas on a local level.

Withstood Programs
Rural America has long withstood the government's antipov-erty programs. Statistics show that its poverty rate is nearly twice that of the rest of the nation, its children lag two years behind urban dwellers in education and receive 33 per cent less medical attention. Twenty-five per cent of its nonfarm homes lack even running water.

As envisioned by Robert G. Lewis, administrator of the Rural Community Development Service, the new administration program would provide "a means whereby the rural and city people will be able to plan together and to achieve some things that no individual government unit is able to afford itself."

Trading Area
The proposed districts would be up to about 50 miles in diameter and generally correspond to the usual commercial patterns of a rural trading area.

Unions Get Ready For Federal Fight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Labor leaders began gathering today for their annual session in the sun, but seemed more in a mood to get heated up over grievances with the Johnson administration and Congress.

"Our boys are more than a little burned up," said a spokesman for the AFL-CIO Construction and Building Trades Department, opening a series of meetings of the 13-million member labor federation.

The construction unions are angry over being singled out by the Johnson administration for "excessive" wage hikes and a proposal by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz for compulsory contract settlements.

Humphrey's 22-hour visit may result in resumption of economic and possibly military aid which the U.S. government cut off last September when Pakistan and India went to war over Kashmir.

As the vice president's car emerged from the airport, about 100 young men unfurled anti-American banners and shouted "Humphrey go back." Police rounded them up and took them away.

The vice president told a reporter food problems will be high on the list of topics to be discussed with Pakistani leaders today and with Indian leaders when he flies on to New Delhi Wednesday. Both nations are suffering severe food shortages because of drought.

Discuss Plans
In India, Humphrey said he will discuss plans for sending food for that country's starving millions. India reportedly hopes to get 19 million tons of U.S. wheat, but current prospects indicate the United States may not be able to furnish more than 12 million tons.

The vice president said there is a misconception that the United States still has a huge wheat surplus on hand under its farm price support program. The only big surplus commodity in U.S. government storehouses, he said, is cotton.

Mrs. Gandhi Under Attack After 23 Days As Prime Minister

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi came under strong political attack today after only 23 days in office. A censure motion against her government was introduced in Parliament and thousands of demonstrators paraded the capital's streets.

The censure motion charged Mrs. Gandhi had not dealt firmly with the food riots in the southwest state of Kerala earlier this month.

Many more than the required 50 Parliament members supported the motion and thus forced Mrs. Gandhi to debate the issue.

Reserve Unit 'Major'

Leukemia Victim, 5, Gets Warrior's Rank

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bouncy 5-year-old who is fighting leukemia is the newest trainee in a fighting man's unit, and he's starting at the top as a major.

He's Dickie Weber of Lansing, a blue-eyed, crew-cut blond who was awarded a major's gold oak leaf by the 4th Howitzer Battalion of the U.S. Army Reserve's 20th Artillery.

Dickie has worn his own Army uniform for more than a year. During that time he and doctors at University of Michigan Hospital have waged a groping battle against his blood disease.

Rotate Drugs
Effects of the disease are spreading throughout his active body as doctors rotate drugs to find a cure.

Sgt. I. C. Samuel Hansel, a Boy Scouting friend of Dickie's dad, Richard Weber, learned about Dickie's red-hot Army interest and mentioned it last week to the 4th Howitzer Battalion commander, Maj. Charles Bragg. It was Bragg's idea to have the unit "adopt" Dickie.

Dickie was dressed in his uniform two hours before his first drill last Saturday.

At Sunday's closing formation, nearly 300 officers and men of the unit heard orders granting Dickie his major's commission.

No More Kisses
"I don't get kisses anymore," observed his father. "Majors don't kiss their dads. It has to be a salute or handshake."

Next month the reserve unit will give blood in Dickie's name. He receives periodic injections and blood transfusions — sometimes under emergency conditions.

"He accepts the medication and the shots," says his mother. "Now he'll even tell the nurse which finger he wants pricked when he has a blood test."

Hospitalized several times last spring and summer, Dickie is strong enough now to put in a day at kindergarten.

Major Dickie jumps into a Jeep or gives snappy salutes to his new Army buddies.

His mother says, "If you didn't know, most of the time you wouldn't guess anything was wrong."

Development Plan Proposed For Calumet

Technical Action Group to Meet With State Representative

CHILTON — The Calumet County Technical Action Panel (TAP) will meet with a state representative Feb. 24 to seek advice about formulating a resource development plan for the county.

At its January session, the Calumet County Board, was informed of some of the government sponsored programs under which funds may be obtained for resource development programs. To qualify the county must have a comprehensive development plan.

This plan would be financed by the county, but programs for its enactment may be carried out under loans with reduced interest rates and possible grants to cover part of the cost.

Further Study

Supervisors asked the TAP to investigate the matter further.

The TAP is expected to make a recommendation with an explanation of procedures at the March 15 county board session. Members of the TAP are Orrin Meyer, agricultural agent; Roland Miller, chief of the state convention committee of local Schwalenberg, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service; Bruno Zucolo, county soil conservationist; Lawrence Christian, State Conservation Department Forester, and Elwood Hoffmann, Farm Home Administration representative.

Susan Kandler Crowned Queen At Hilbert Dance

HILBERT — Susan Kandler, a junior, was crowned queen of the annual Sweetheart Hop Saturday at Hilbert High School by her escort, Douglas Schultz, who reigned as king. Schultz received his crown from Gerald Wollersheim, in the absence of Francis Wolf, last year's king.

Serving on the court of honor were Paula Mauthe and Leslie Hernauer, freshmen; Judith Albers and Gary Minsberger, sophomores, and Lesley Rotzien and Kenn Frank, seniors.

The queen was chosen by popular vote of persons attending the dance, sponsored by the senior class.

Motorist Forfeits $28 On Charge After New London Accident

NEW LONDON — Richard A. Fischer, 29, 510 W. Millard St., driver of a car involved in an accident Saturday in which seven persons were injured, forfeited $28 in Municipal Justice Court Monday on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way.

City police said Fischer was attempting a left turn off Wolf River Avenue when his car struck another auto.

A Green Bay mother and five children and Fischer's wife were injured in the accident.

Deliberations Set For University Sites

State Panel Convenes Monday;
Recommendations Due Feb. 25

MADISON — The committee responsible for recommending locations for two new four-year branch campuses of the University of Wisconsin in northeastern and southeastern Wisconsin will begin its final deliberations at a session here Monday.

Assemblyman Glen Pommerening, chairman of the statutory group, said it will assemble at the capitol Monday afternoon for a final review of the technical and engineering aspects of site selection and a detailed study of the proposals received.

Approval Needed
He repeated that the committee is trying to meet its previously imposed deadline of Friday, Feb. 25, for the filing of its final report with recommendations for new campus selections in the Fox River Valley and Racine-Kenosha areas. Pommerening said he is reasonably sure the report will probably be made public on Friday.

The committee's report will be submitted to the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, the state Building Commission and Gov. Warren Knowles. Approval from all three will be required to permit site acquisition, preliminary engineering and other preparatory work authorized by the Legislature in a $400,000 appropriation last year.

Pommerening speculated that the first official reaction to the site recommendations will probably come from the coordinating committee, which has scheduled its next meeting for March 15 for the consideration of a wide range of basic policy questions, including the controversial matter of imposing a formal limit on non-resident enrollment at state-supported institutions of higher learning. That question relates to the problem of population capacity at the existing institutions, and thus in turn can affect the enrollment prospects for the new branch campuses.

Without Attorney
Judge Van Susteren told the Milwaukee youth, "I am going to find an attorney to be assigned to the case and there will be no further conversation with him or if you discharge him, you will be without any attorneys."

Three attorneys have been involved, directly or indirectly in the case to date.

The law can provide you with an attorney, but is not obligated to find an attorney of your choice," Judge Van Susteren told Cornelius. "It will be your fault if you go unrepresented."

Waupaca Youth Demolishes Car; Pays $50 Fine

WAUPACA — Extensive damage was caused to a car driven by Delmar Peterson, 20, route 3, Waupaca, at 2 a.m. Monday, when it went out of control and struck a concrete abutment and gas pumps at the Phillips 66 Service Station, 304 Mill St.

Peterson told city police he was traveling east on Mill Street and when he rounded a curve he lost control of the car. The 1959 model car was listed as demolished. Peterson was charged with driving too fast, was fined $50 and ordered to appear in court Monday.

Small Time Kicks
These others, barbiturates, amphetamines and tranquilizers are, in the view of many, used foolishly reckless chances. Anyone at the wheel of a car and under their influence is a threat to all others on the road.

But he is even more of a threat if he is still at the wheel when the effects of the drug wear off, for victims often black out at that time, says a state bulletin.

And barbiturate users often also use amphetamines, as the drugs have opposite affects.

Habit Forming
Tranquilizers are, in the view of many health, welfare and police officials, the drugs considered most in need of adequate controls. Some are habit forming. Some cause reactions similar to those of the barbiturates. All produce calm without producing sleep.

Hallucinogenic drugs, glue and missile propellant sniffing, the use of radiator antifreeze and Jamacian ginger, hair tonic, nutmeg and the ingredients of inhalers are all used by searchers for kicks.

The only cure for excessive use, according to the state health department, is continued use of the good drug control laws now written into the state statute books, accompanied by increased vigilance on the part of parents, doctors, teachers, pharmacists, law enforcement officers and all state residents.

New London Sets Metals Class

NEW LONDON — An adult education class in general metals is being planned for the second semester by the Washington High School adult education department.

The 12-week course is to begin at 7 p.m. Feb. 23 under the direction of Herbert Mehne. Registration is underway. A minimum enrollment of 10 persons is needed for the course.

Registration may be made by contacting the high school office.

The course will include a study of fundamental techniques in machine shop, foundry, forging and sheet metals. The only charge will be for materials used in the course.

Track Construction Costs Considered at New London

Youth Forfeits $111 Bond on Beer Charge

WAUPACA — Larry H. Ferg, 18, route 2, Manawa, forfeited a $111 bond Monday when he failed to appear in Municipal Justice Court to answer a charge of furnishing beer to a minor.

Ferg was arrested by Wauwagea police Saturday night after they spotted a 17-year-old youth coming out of the local bowling lanes carrying a bottle of beer. After questioning, it was learned that Ferg had purchased the beer for the youth. The 17-year-old boy has been referred to juvenile authorities, according to police.

Troop Awards Scouting Badges At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Eric Larson was presented the rank of life scout by Scoutmaster Milton Paroubek at a Court of Honor of Boy Scout Troop 28 Sunday night at Christus parish hall. Merit badges also were presented to Larson and Keith Paroubek.

Assistant Scoutmaster John Engel, assisted by Dave Rohrer, presented the tenderfoot scout rank to William Arneson, David Graff, William Hart, John Paustian and Charles White; second class to David Gleason and Keith Hoffman, and first class to Larry Faehling, Leonard Helling and Arthur Kulbert. Scout Sunday observance began with the scouts and their leaders attending the morning church services at Christus Lutheran church. A banquet preceded the Court of Honor. The program concluded with the showing of slides and a talk about Boy Scouting in Ethiopia by Mike Sirak. Clintonville's American Field Service student from Ethiopia, Troop Chairman Douglas Frost presented him with a gift.

Church Study Group To Meet at Leeman

LEEMAN — A meeting of the Tri-Church study group will be Wednesday at the United Church of Christ here. A potluck dinner will be served at noon. Bible studies and devotions will be conducted of the afternoon by Rev. Donald Schmidt, Cecil, pastor of the three churches.

Administrators to Study Sizes; Equipment Contracts Awarded

NEW LONDON — School officials will study the cost of constructing a track on the new senior high school site, the board of education decided Monday.

The school district has no facilities for track and competes in a full state of meets in the spring away from home. Despite this handicap the teams have fared well in competition.

Administrators will look into the various types of surface for tracks, cost and the size of track possible for the amount of room available. It is believed a quarter mile track drawn to WIAA specifications will be constructed. The number of running lanes will be one item considered.

The closing of the Northport Elementary School in the fall was approved by the board. Students normally attending that school will attend classes in New London and Sugar Bush next year.

Art Course Approved
Approval was given to final parts of the curriculum held over for study at the January meeting. An art course to be offered high school students was approved following a survey of students to determine interest in the course.

More than 90 youngsters indicated they would take part in an art course if offered. Three sections of art will be offered in 1966-67.

Bids on a 66-passenger bus chassis and body were opened and held over for study. Six bids on the bus body ranged from low of $3,359 to a high of $4,110. Five chassis bids ranged between $2,470 and $2,850.

Gym-Pla, Milwaukee, was awarded the contract for scoreboards for the new senior high school gym on its low bid of $1,288. Six bids were submitted on the boards.

Badger Sporting Goods, Madison, submitted a lower bid on the board at $1,266, but the price did not include installation. About 200 feet of cable Mrs. Albert Krueger, Mrs. Jerome Brantmeier and Mrs. Margaret Bach.

Language Laboratory
Koss Equipment, Milwaukee, will install the language laboratory equipment in the new school. They were the successful bidder with a price of $6,972. One bid was about $150 lower, but the difference in equipment was cited as the reason for the purchase.

Threatened Moratorium on State Campus Expansion Called Off

MADISON — A threatened moratorium on campus expansion at the University of Wisconsin and in the state university system was called off Monday when the State Building Commission received the pledge of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education that it will speed long-range planning for the development of state-supported higher education.

Assemblyman Glen Pommerening, Wauwatosa, a member of the building commission which controls the borrowed funds involved in the campus enlargement programs of the schools, had threatened to make a motion delaying additional construction pending the development of a practical and long-range higher education plan.

Yesterday, the commission was assured by former Gov. Sumner W. Kohler, chairman of the CCHE, and other members of the executive committee of school and professional school that controlling higher education curricula, and other elements of the system involved in long-range financing demands will be met during the next few months.

Pommerening said he was "delighted" with the assurance that the commission continue. But he also retorted briskly to the suggestion that the higher building construction requests education chiefs have in fact prepared long-range plans in the biennium. He explained that he past.

Good Hiding Job
"If they have such plans, they more quickly than would otherwise have done a very good job of hiding them," he observed. "for my month ago that he planned to attention."

Pommerening said he is confident about the devotion to lack of long-range development higher education advancement plans had startled the higher of the members of the system education hierarchy, and especially because there were signs officials will "reciprocate" with that he had some support from respect to his own "earnest other building commission support of the most beneficial members. But Gov. Warren P. goals for the people of Wisconsin. Knowles, commission chairman, sin." But, he said, the financial appeared uncertain about the resources of the state are Pommerening criticism, limited, and he wants assurance that they will be expended prudently and well."

W. D. McIntyre, Eau Claire, of the board of regents of state colleges, and Philip Lerman, Milwaukee, of the State Board of Vocational Education, as members of the CCHE, assured the committee that the answers about future plans demanded by Pommerening will be given. Only Arthur DeBardeleben, Park Falls, of the University of Wisconsin board of regents, appeared dubious. He said the higher education system is so fluid and dynamic that it may not be possible to draw up a long-range program of the kind Pommerening demanded.

Long-Range Projection
But the UW regents' chairman agreed that the CCHE at its next two or three meetings will prepare long-range student enrollment projections, consider policy on the admission of non-resident students, space guide,

Jerold Murphy Circuit Judge At Fond du Lac

Appointment Opens Vacancy on County Court Bench

FOND DU LAC — Gov. Knowles appointed County Judge Jerold E. Murphy to a discharge from the Army. In $20,500-a-year circuit judgeship and in doing so created another judicial vacancy.

Murphy, 49, succeeds the late Judge Russell E. Hanson as 18th circuit judge.

He was one of four candidates recommended for the post after members of the Fond du Lac and Green Lake County Bar Associations were polled at the request of the governor.

Murphy, a veteran county judge, is well known throughout the Fox Valley and at one time was chairman of the Wisconsin County Judges Association.

All Qualified
The governor's office notified him of the appointment shortly before 9 a.m.

"Each of the candidates has considerable support and all are qualified," Gov. Knowles said at Madison. "Since I asked for the plebiscite by the bar associations, it is only fitting to accept the recommendation of the majority who endorsed Judge Murphy by a substantial margin."

Others who had been considered for the job were: County Judge Hazen W. McEsey and Attorneys Kenneth Worthing, Fond du Lac, and James L. McMonigal, Green Lake.

Heavy Calendar
It was reported in The Sunday Post-Crescent that Gov. Knowles wanted to expedite the appointment and, after conferring with aides over the weekend, would pick Judge Hanson's successor by Tuesday.

The 18th circuit court always has a heavy calendar, covering Fond du Lac and Green Lake Counties.

Judge Murphy presided over his own county probate court this morning as arrangements were being made to have him sworn in as the new circuit jurist.

Marquette Graduate
Murphy, a native of Waupun, is a graduate of the Marquette University Law School. He began practicing law in Fond du Lac in 1945 following his discharge from the Army. In 1951 he sought the Republican nomination for Wisconsin attorney general.

He was city attorney here five years, Fond du Lac County district attorney four years, and was elected to the county judgeship, succeeding the late L. E. Lurvey in 1956.

Murphy will have to stand election in the spring of 1968.

Gov. Knowles has now asked the Fond du Lac County Bar to again poll its members and recommend a successor to Judge Murphy in branch 1 of County Court.

Democrat Women's Clubs Plan Spring Tours Of State's Scenic Areas

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Tours of the state's scenic areas are being planned by women's clubs of the state Democratic party. Featured guests on the tours in localities throughout the state will be Mrs. Patrick Lucey and Mrs. Bronson LaFollette.

The spring tours will be similar to one sponsored last year by the Rock County women's committee. The county organization termed that trip a "splendid success."

Local clubs interested in sponsoring a tour in their region this spring may contact the state headquarters, the state Democratic party has announced.

Car Accidents Injure Three In Outagamie

Three persons were injured in two accidents on Outagamie County roads Sunday.

Most seriously injured was Herman Babino Jr., 23, Bear Creek, who received a fractured left hand and multiple abrasions and lacerations when the car he was driving left State 76, about 1 1/2 miles east of Bear Creek, rolled over and broke off a utility pole.

The accident occurred about 10:30 p.m., according to Outagamie County traffic police. The Babino car was traveling east on 76. Babino told police he did not know what happened. About $700 damage was reported to the car. Babino was taken to New London Community Hospital in a squad car.

Henry O. Termaat Jr., 29, served in World War II as a Green Bay and Richard Hansen, radar technician in an anti-32, Oconto, received chest injuries about 2:10 a.m. when the Pacific car Termaat was driving failed to make a curve and rolled over near County Trunk OO and Kelso Road in the Town of Kaukauna.

Both men were taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital in the Kaukauna ambulance.

Appleton Youths Change Minds in Suicide Attempts

Two Appleton youths, 18 and 19 years old, reportedly will undergo observation following a double suicide attempt early Sunday.

Police said the youths, who said they had consumed several quarts of beer earlier in the evening, told of sitting in a car with the motor running for about two hours shortly after 1 a.m. Sunday. They had parked the car in the garage at the home of one of the youths, then shut the garage doors, police said.

The youths told police that after about two hours, they "turned chicken." Both boys were taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by squad car after the suicide attempt was brought to the attention of police.

The boys told police they were having troubles at home and one of the youths said he was depressed because he had been rejected for military service.

Professor Doubts Red China Threat

Symposium Tries to Reveal Some U. S. Policy on Communist Giant

EDITOR'S NOTE — The warship. It's desirable to prevent in South Viet Nam may be viewed in terms of a broader long-range conflict between the United States and Communist China. The following story focuses attention on this conflict based on a symposium on the subject "Containing China."

By RONALD I. DEUTSCH

NEW YORK (AP) — Is Communist China really a threat to the United States? Should she be contained in Asia, and if so, does a policy of containment require absolute U.S. opposition to Communist regimes in Asia? These were the questions four speakers sought to answer Monday night at a symposium on "Containing China" in an effort to shed light on U.S. policy in Asia.

A U.S. senator criticized the United States for pursuing what he called a policy to isolate China.

A professor said Washington has become "obsessed" with the idea of containing China but doubted that she was as much of a threat as U.S. policymakers believed.

Expansion Plans

A former presidential consultant took issue with this view and said the United States has been more preoccupied with the expansion plans of the Soviet Union than those of Red China.

Another professor said that the problem of Chinese power is still remote but cautioned that the United States should preserve the status quo and "hold the line in Asia."

While the participants were generally critical of U.S. policy in Asia, they differed on what this policy is or should be. Nor was there any firm agreement on how seriously the United States should take the Chinese threat.

The symposium, sponsored by Commentary magazine, a monthly publication, was held at the Institute of Human Relations, and featured Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D.; Bernard B. Fall, author on Viet Nam and professor of international relations at Howard University in Washington, D.C.; John P. Roche, political science professor at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass.; and Richard N. Goodwin, former special consultant to President John F. Kennedy and President Johnson.

Sensitive Policy

The following are excerpts from the symposium:

Goodwin: "The United States does have a China policy, but it's so sensitive we're not able to tell it to anybody."

"Probably it is true that policies like containment of China emerge out of conflict and experience and are not imposed on a situation in advance. There has not been the evolution of a consistent policy towards China in the period we're going through. In the main we do want to keep China from absorbing all of Asia."

McGovern: "I think our greatest interest in Asia today is the prevention of a war with China. A military conflict between the United States and mainland China is the worst possible catastrophe that could develop in the rest of this century. The prevention of such a war ought to be the number one task of American statesmen."

Teacher Charged In Killing of Illinois Girl

WHEATON, Ill. (AP) — Loren Scholfield, 26, a teacher in an elementary school north of West Chicago, today was charged with murder in the fatal stabbing of a 10-year-old girl last Friday night.

State's Attorney William V. Hopf and Sheriff Stanley Lynch of Du Page County announced the charge.

Roche: "I don't know of any Chinese government can slaying and told Hopf and Lynch there are infinite possibilities for the possibility of self-destruction on the part of the Chinese. The Communists stick to making small mistakes with here is an indigenous North takes than we are so we should Vietnamese Communist imperialism, which would be backed and let them make the big mistake if takes. We need a policy of playing for time and holding on."

"I don't think the possibility of China entering Viet Nam is imminent unless we should invade North Viet Nam, which I think at the moment is about as remote a contingency as I can conceive."

in a joint statement that Scholfield said several times during questioning. "I think I could have done it" in answer to questions about the slaying of Debbie Fijan.

Scholfield is a teacher at the Benjamin Elementary School where Debbie was in the fifth grade. The child's body, with 18 stab wounds in the chest, neck and thigh, was found late Friday night in an ice-encrusted ditch in a rural area north of West Chicago.

Scholfield did not admit the slaying and told Hopf and Lynch he did not remember committing it. But Lynch and Hopf said he failed a lie detector test Monday when questioned about the slaying.

The Policy Line on Viet Nam

The Administration policy line on Viet Nam develops a hollow ring the more it is repeated by President Johnson. Secretary of State Rusk. Vice President Humphrey and others. It sometimes appears that they believe they can make it true by repeating it over and over again.

Secretary Rusk told an "Affirmation Viet Nam" rally of 15,000 persons in Atlanta last weekend that we are not going to draw back in Viet Nam but that Hanoi can have peace any time they really want it.

This is a negative statement. The State Department should certainly be convinced by now that Hanoi does not want peace. At least the kind of peace the United States could agree to. Ho Chi Minh wants complete control of South Viet Nam and apparently is convinced that this goal can be achieved over a period of years.

And when Secretary Rusk says we will not "draw back," what does he really mean?

The decision which President Johnson refuses to make is what our military objective in South Viet Nam really is. No one in the Administration comes out and says that we are going to expend the necessary effort to drive the North Vietnamese out of South Viet Nam. The only way any military operation can succeed is by seizing and holding ground.

The State and the Cities

The League of Wisconsin Municipalities magazine quotes with implied approval the declaration of Michigan Gov. George W. Romney that the state governments of America on the whole "for too long have neglected the needs of the rising tide of city dwellers."

The Michigan governor's speech excerpts about his proposals for state action for the assistance of municipalities in our neighboring state were given considerable prominence in the state municipal organization periodical, which suggests that there is a growing concern about the state and its attitude toward its creature localities here, and especially in the larger and growing urban centers.

We have wondered, sometimes, why this reasonably manifest issue has not yet occurred to the elective office politicians of our state. Offhand, we can recall only the declaration of David Carley, the Democratic candidate for governor, with an explicit proposal for a formal state program of counselling and assistance and leadership in the accommodation of problems of urban growth and development. Gov. Knowles, who has shown more concern about urban affairs than have most of his Republican predecessors, might very well ponder the declaration of his friend and colleague in Michigan.

"Too long have the cities been the stepchildren of the states," said Gov. Romney. "Too long has state government

Apparently the President shrinks from committing the kind of force which it would take to do this job.

Meanwhile we read that North Vietnamese armed forces are invading neighboring Laos in force in order to seize and hold high ground overlooking the Ho Chi Minh trail in that country through which troops and supplies are funnelled into South Viet Nam. Operating in conjunction with the Communist rebels in Laos, the Pathet Lao, North Viet Nam apparently intends to seize and hold such areas of that country as it needs to wage its war in the south. The Communists thus demonstrate no reluctance to do what is necessary to win a land war, including invading another neighboring country.

An American turncoat who spent 11 years in Red China after the Korean War and who recently returned to this country warns that Red China wants war with the United States, and that war is inevitable unless the U.S. backs down in Southeast Asia.

"You don't fool around, toying with the other side, trying to negotiate here and do a little fighting there, hoping that the thing will be solved some other way," remarked Morris Wills. "If it's a war, you go ahead and fight it and win it."

We are beginning to wish that someone in the Administration would say something like that.

"It is time for state government to focus its attention directly on the people for whom the services are designed. And we can do this best by centering our efforts on the cities—where most people live," according to the Michigan leader.

What Mr. Romney says about Michigan applies equally to Wisconsin. Two-thirds of the inhabitants of this state are now "urban" by the common definition—that is, they live in communities of 2,500 or more. No one can doubt, moreover, that the next census will show that the ratio has risen significantly again. The most difficult and costly problems of public services are found in the cities, and that trend will be accelerated also.

Gov. Knowles recently spoke with something akin to despair about the complexities and confusion of dealing with the multitude of federal aid agencies, from his perspective in the well-staffed state executive office. He can imagine how much more confounding that congeries of programs must appear to the mayor of the small or middle size Wisconsin city. The state now provides a host of aids to its localities, from planning, to money, to supervision, to contract services. It may be time to pull them together into a department of urban affairs that would acknowledge the true character of the state in the last part of the 20th Century.

Even the Hungry Are Choosy

One of the problems of hungry people in India where serious droughts have wiped out chances of having anywhere nearly enough food this spring is that habits are hard to change.

There were riots in the province of Kerala last week over the cut in the rice ration to only five ounces per adult a day. In order to improve the food situation, the Indian government had shipped thousands of tons of wheat to Kerala so that each adult could also have five ounces of that grain. But the people of Kerala have turned up their noses at the wheat. And while in the nearby hills grow coconuts, tapioca, mangoes, bananas, pineapples, sweet potatoes, sugar cane, cashew nuts, pepper, tea and coffee and quite enough to give the people in Kerala a well-balanced as well as sufficient diet, they simply want rice. Even the sardines, lobsters, mackerel, and shrimp in the Arabian Sea don't tempt them unless rice is the main dish.

Most of the fish, nuts and coffee are exported and the natives have never developed ships large enough to bring in really large hauls of fish. They are able to raise, even in good years, only about half the rice they require. The droughts elsewhere have not left much for shipment to Kerala.

Obviously starving people will eat almost anything. But those who do not completely understand the reasons why their diet must change and who also know that rice is available for a price on the black market are going to riot no matter how much wheat or bananas are there for the asking.

Crescent Hails President's Veto

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Feb. 24, 1865.

The President True to the Union—A Noble Vote!—All honor to Andrew Johnson, the Patriotic President, who stands as an everlasting rock against which Southern Secessionism and Northern Disunionism and Centralized Despotism will beat in vain.

Let the people rejoice. The mad career of traitorous fanaticism is checked.

"The Union must and shall be preserved." Glory, Hallelujah! God be praised forever and ever.

Read the veto of the Man of Iron Will and Patriotic purpose.

The following is an excerpt from President Johnson's message on his veto of the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, explaining the reasons for his veto, sustained in a U.S. Senate by a vote of 30-18, lacking 4 votes of constitutional requirement to override a presidential veto.

"I have examined with care the bill which originated in the Senate, and has been passed by the two Houses of Congress, to amend an act entitled 'An Act to establish a bureau for the relief of freedmen and refugees and other purposes'.

"I have, with Congress, the strongest desire to secure to freedmen the full enjoyment of their freedom and their independence and their equality, and in making contracts for their labor.

"But the bill before me contains provisions, which, in my opinion are not warranted by the constitution, and are not well suited to accomplish the ends in view.

"The bill proposes to establish by authority of Congress a military authority over all parts of the United States containing refugees and freedmen. It would, by its very nature, apply with most force to the United States in which the freedmen are most numerous, and it expressly extends the existing temporary jurisdiction of the Freedmen's Bureau, with greatly enlarged powers over these States, in which the ordinary course of judicial proceedings has been interrupted by the rebellion.

"The source by which this military jurisdiction is to emanate is none other than the President of the United States, acting through the War Department and the Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau. The power placed in the hands of the President is such that ought not to be extended to any man."

U.N. Diplomats Feel Johnson Fell Into Trap at Honolulu Meet

BY MAX FREEDMAN

UNITED NATIONS — The clearest way to summarize the present reaction of the United Nations to American policy in Viet Nam is by saying that far too many members are bewildered by that policy rather than critical of it. That sense of bewilderment has been deepened rather than removed by the spate of statements in Washington.

Freedman

The prevailing view seems to be that the peace moves of President Johnson have come to a dismal and inglorious end if they have resulted in giving the premier of South Viet Nam a veto power over future negotiations with the Viet Cong.

There is always a danger in an alliance between two countries whose power is vastly dissimilar—a danger that the stronger country will defer to the weaker one if only to prove that it is not following colonial or imperial ambitions. Yet this attitude, honorable in itself, can also be very dangerous, unless it is also prudent and farsighted. For the risk is always inherent in such an unequal relationship that the strong ally will wait on events and adopt a shuffling diplomatic policy because it is being guided by the more limited views of its less experienced and responsible ally. Something of this danger seems to have emerged as an unintended sequel to the Honolulu conference.

Viet Cong Have Role
There is not the slightest difficulty in understanding why the Saigon leaders announce their refusal to negotiate with the Viet Cong or to sit at the conference table with its spokesmen. The Viet Cong to them is an armed band of criminal desperadoes. But this view, so understandable in human terms, cannot be accepted by every one else, nor can it be made the condition limiting future diplomacy. Veteran diplomats at the United Nations, many of them with long experience in the Far East, are convinced that any poll among members of the world organization would result in an almost unanimous finding that there can be no final settlement in Viet Nam without the Viet Cong, in some way, taking an important part in the negotiations. That too is a reality.

But the members of the United Nations appreciate the difficulties which now confront President Johnson in trying to extricate himself from this embarrassing position. He cannot publicly quarrel with Saigon over the role of the Viet Cong; he cannot let Saigon's veto be treated as final; he cannot quietly tell other countries to ignore the wishes of Saigon. But time will not wait for the President. World opinion will not soon forget the harsh and contemptuous terms in which the premier of South Viet Nam has spoken of the Viet Cong. It is difficult to see how any settlement can bring unity and peace to Viet Nam when the country is divided and ravaged by the savage passions of a civil war, piled on top of the misery and suffering caused by an organized subversive campaign directed from the outside.

The feeling here is that the United States has never sufficiently distinguished between these two wars, now intermingled but having separate origins. The Viet Cong did not rely on terror alone to gain its victories, its victims, or its villages. It also was helped by the resentment that surged across the country in protest against the evils of an old regime festering with archaic injustice and corruption. The Viet Cong cannot pose as a model of virtue but that fact should not blind us to the conditions which existed in Viet Nam after the expulsion of French colonial rule.

Wishes and Hopes
Many diplomats are saying that the Viet Cong would never have made great gains in South Viet Nam if the United States had begun a comprehensive program of economic reform and social justice ten years ago. They question whether it is possible to carry out such a program now, in the midst of war, with savage passions unleashed, with political stability far from assured, and with the United States burdened with the odium that it is pledging justice to Viet Nam merely because it will help to win the war and lighten the casualties for American troops. But everyone wishes the new Johnson program will succeed and hopes that these forebodings will not be verified by the event.

Without exception the view I met here was one of criticism of the Honolulu conference being held at all. The suspicion is almost universal that the President went to Honolulu to divert attention from the hearings now being held by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The diplomats believe the President, in coming months, will regret that he went to a conference without any prior diplomatic foundations being laid, and against a background of domestic political criticism. At the moment his stock is not too high at the United Nations.

Taxpayer Body Comes Out In Favor of State Bonded Indebtedness

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Because it is a consistently conservative voice among those involved in Wisconsin public affairs, the Public Expenditures Survey's support of a state bonding amendment as a wise and necessary reform is one of the noteworthy developments of the times.

Wyngaard

For a quarter of a century the survey has had agents in the legislative process urging moderation in public spending, thrift in the management of state and local government affairs, and improvement in the efficiency performance of the steadily enlarging range of public services and benefits supported by Wisconsin taxpayers. Essentially it is the voice of the attentive, worried and sensitive taxpayers and represents the hope of such persons that the public spending curve can be flattened if not reversed.

Now the survey after an examination of the extra-legal borrowing practices of the state through so-called "dummy" corporations has concluded that the state will accumulate a huge bonded indebtedness, will-nilly, and that it would be the course of prudence to amend the state constitution to provide an open and above board and more economical and candid method of floating bonds.

WHY?

Doubtless there will be some eyebrow raising around the state, among liberal politicians, and among the institutional office-holders who are most directly involved in the state borrowing machinery, about this position of the survey. Why has this usually cautious organization taken what seems on the face of it to be pro-spending position?

The explanation is found in the detailed arguments of the survey's bulletin, including its complaint that the state's system of capital financing is "largely uncontrolled." It is a valid criticism. The fact is that there are no real controls of the dummy corporation device today, in practical terms. The average legislator doesn't have the slightest notion of how the system works, or how it is limited, or how it is able to do what it is doing in the steady additions to the total of bonded debt.

The survey wants an above-board method of direct state bonding that would be tied to explicit approval of the legislature as a whole and pegged to a reasonable base limit such as the total of state property valuation. Thus there would be more public understanding, on the one hand, and some assurance of upper limits of debt accumulation, on the other, even as the legislature had cautiously demanded such conditions in the floating of bonds by its creature municipalities.

LATE?

The survey's thoughtful declaration, however, comes unfortunately late. As it has noted, the state has already accumulated about $300 million in debt fixed to future state taxes. The total may rise by 50 per cent even if it is optimistically assumed that a constitutional amendment will be enacted.

There is growing pressure for more dummy corporation borrowing for additional purposes, such as recreational land acquisition and development, and strategic highway construction. Will those groups be willing to wait three to four years?

There are signs also that some of the forces that might be expected to rally around the unexpected support of a fiscally cautious lobby for a constitutionally approved debt program will be lukewarm publicly and, possibly, hostile in a private way. The chief beneficiaries of the present dummy corporation method are the politically persuasive and powerful educational institutions. Almost surely they are serving their wants more adequately under the present system, whatever its shortcomings, that they would under the more careful and antiseptic review implied in straight-out bonding. Doubtless it has occurred to them also that there may be a tendency in the legislature to defer further corporation debt expansion pending the decision on the constitutional amendment. Finally, there is always the spectre of rejection of such an amendment by the people at the ballot box.

Creative People Often Perceive by Intuition

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

What makes highly creative people different from others? This is a question that has perplexed, and preoccupied, researchers for several decades. It used to be an academic question; now, business and industry, which desperately need innovations, are joining in the search.

Harris

Some University of California researchers have turned up with answers that make more sense than most. They suggest that the qualities all creative people have in common, whether artists or scientists, are these:

"A general openness to experience from both without and within; a tolerance for ambiguity, confusion and disorder; strong disposition to be independent rather than conforming; and the tendency to perceive through intuition rather than through the senses."

It was found, for instance, that 100 per cent of creative people are intuitive, as compared to only 25 per cent of the general population. They are more easily able to express the opposite sides of their nature, to reconcile the conscious with the unconscious, the rational and the irrational, the scientific and the artistic aspects.

As an interesting sidelight, it was found that in the matter of interests, all the creative people studied in the tests, no matter what their own calling, scored high on interests "which might lead them to become psychologists, archifects, or author-journalists." And all, without exception, scored low on scales for office workers, bankers, farmers and policemen.

Some of the mystery and contradiction in the creative personality was explained by Frank Barron, of the university's Institute of Personality Assessment, as springing from the fact that "The creative person is both more primitive and more cultivated, more destructive and more constructive, a lot madder and a lot saner, than the average person."

One reason that business and industry have had such a hard time in harnessing and keeping creative people even after they have been discovered, was expressed by Barron: "Almost everything we know about highly creative people suggests that neither they nor their creativity may be used as a mere means to an end, but that both will flourish when respected as ends in themselves."

The real problem for organizations that want to become more creative as well as more productive is to learn to respect intuition as well as facts, to tolerate ambiguity and a certain amount of disorder—and to realize that someone a lot madder than the rest of us may be a lot saner, too.

Geysers Spurt Along New Zealand River

Green Berets Grow With Strange Fame

'Mysterious Service' Started To Harass Enemy Behind Lines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Army's slightly mysterious Special Forces — the men in the green berets — are operating today on at least three continents, plus Central America and the Pacific island of Okinawa.

Others are training for missions, when and if needed, in Africa and the Middle East.

The exploits of the green berets in Viet Nam have been celebrated in news stories, a book and a popular song. Their numbers have grown with their fame.

When President John F. Kennedy sent the first handful to shore up the morale of the South Vietnamese in late 1961, there were only 1,800 green berets in the entire Army.

AMC to Stop Production For 10 Days

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. announced today that it would shut down its assembly lines for 10 working days beginning Feb. 21 to "balance inventories with sales."

William V. Luneburg, AMC president-automotive manufacturing, said employees affected by the shutdown would return to work at the Kenosha and Milwaukee, Wis., plants on March 7.

It was the second AMC suspension of car building operations in recent months. AMC's lines were down for 13 working days from Dec. 22 to Jan. 17. Company officials said that move was to get field stocks in line with demand.

When AMC resumed Jan. 17, its schedules called for 1,460 cars a day, compared with the 1,800 a day built in December before the first shutdown.

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Several church groups have urged Maine citizens to reject Sunday liquor sales, but leaders of the state's Roman Catholics and Episcopalians said they would not make such a request.

The state's voters will decide Feb. 21 on whether to legalize such sales.

Opposition to the Sunday sales has come from the Council of Protestant Churches, the Association of Evangelical Churches of Greater Portland and the 2,500-member Woodfords Congregational Church, the largest Protestant church in Maine.

CU CHI, South Viet Nam (AP) — They're talking about the medic in the 27th Infantry, 25th Division, and what they're saying is all good.

The medic is a private first class and he stopped being ordinary last weekend when the outfit was hit by the Viet Cong during a search of tunnel complexes around Cu Chi, 20 miles northwest of Saigon.

The Wolfhounds, trained in Hawaii, took some casualties and inflicted some, especially when a company came under fire after nightfall.

Out of holes and trenches the Viet Cong poured small arms fire from all directions and that's when the nameless medic showed up. He was hit three times while he was tending the wounded and finally he lost his temper.

He jumped up and ran across to where a sniper had been pumping away for some time. The medic whipped out his pistol and emptied his clip. Exit one sniper. Then he went back to his job.

Capt Donald G. Winnham, Seattle, Wash., the battalion surgeon, said: "I don't know who that medic was but I'm going to find out. He was one of our real heroes of the day—I'm putting him in for a high decoration."

The captain said the battle Saturday started about 10 a.m., "and we started having casualties all day until late at night, mostly by shrapnel."

Man Sentenced for Sending False SOS

BOSTON (AP) — A man who sent a false distress call over a citizens band radio has been sentenced to one year in a federal prison.

Richard F. Conefry, 24, of Brockton, Mass., was convicted of sending a message April 23, 1965, that a vessel was sinking in Yarmouth Harbor.

Ice Moves Buoys In Mississippi

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) —

"Old Man River" is filled with ice and towboat captains report they are having trouble finding the main channel.

Buoys marking the Mississippi river channel have been ripped loose by the ice that has choked the river from Cairo, Ill., to about 100 miles downstream from here.

Ice clogging $4,841,700 in January, 1965, the river's tributaries has low-ered the water level, further complicating navigation.

Davis Claims U.S. Bombed Laos Routes

MAUSTON, Wis. (AP) — American planes have bombed Communist supply routes in Laos, Rep. Glenn R. Davis, R-Wis., said Sunday night.

Davis said his information came from a completely reliable source. The Defense Department in Washington said it would have no comment on Davis' statements.

The Wisconsin congressman said the bombings took place within the last month. The period reported by Davis overlapped a portion of the 37-day lull in U.S. aerial attacks on North Viet Nam.

He did not identify his source, although he said it was outside the Johnson administration.

Laos, adjoining South Viet Nam, has been considered neutral in the Southeast Asian conflict, although the Communists' Ho Chi Minh trail runs from North Viet Nam through Laos along the South Vietnamese border before crossing into the war-torn area.

It is the main supply line for the Viet Cong.

Davis told The Associated Press:

"I can only say that, on the basis of a reliable source that I could not question in any way, I am certain there has been some bombing of the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos within the past month."

January Jobless Pay Higher Than December

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's January unemployment benefits were higher than in December, a commission noted.

At the close of January, 34,600 workers were unemployed March 2. Work-in donors also and claiming benefits. In December the total was 42,400.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Today is Tuesday, Feb. 15, the 45th day of 1966. There are 319 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1898, in Havana harbor, an explosion rocked the battleship Maine, which rapidly began to sink. Of 350 men aboard, 252 died. The exact cause was never known, but in about a month a war with Spain began.

On this date: In 1764, St. Louis was established as a fur trading post.

In 1829, pioneer woman suffragist Susan B. Anthony was born.

In 1882, Ft. Donelson on the Cumberland River, with a garrison of 14,000 men, surrendered to Gen. Ulysses S. Grant.

In 1933, Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago was fatally wounded by an assassin in Florida.

In 1942, Singapore surrendered to the Japanese.

Ten years ago, Premier Urho Kekkonen was elected president of Finland by a minimum majority vote.

Five years ago, President John F. Kennedy pledged his own and U.S. support to the principles of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

One year ago, Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Red China called for "concrete action" against the United States because of air attacks on North Viet Nam.

Damaged Engine Postpones March Flight of Gemini

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The "hard start" of an Agena rocket engine in a Tennessee test chamber has muddled plans for the Gemini 8 flight scheduled next month.

The engine was damaged Saturday while being test fired in an altitude chamber at the Air Force Arnold Engineering Development Center at Tullahoma, Tenn.

An Air Force spokesman said he did not know whether the problem would erase plans to use a similar Agena as a target satellite for Gemini 8 astronauts Neil Armstrong and David Scott.

Armstrong and Scott plan to attempt man's first link-up with another satellite during a three-day flight starting March 15. If the decision is made to use the Agena, the shot could be delayed.

...is a Mass Mutual agent.

There are, let's face it, a number of fine life insurance companies. Quite a few of them can offer you highly flexible policies. And, frankly, costs don't vary much from company to company.

But there is one big difference among life insurance companies—and that lies in the ability of their agents. They're the men who help you plan one of the most important programs you'll ever undertake.

How do Mass Mutual men measure up? Here are the solid facts on Mass Mutual agents compared with the industry average. Four times as many have achieved the Chartered Life Underwriter designation...five times as many have earned the National Quality Award...nine times as many are members of the Million Dollar Round Table.

Aren't these the kind of men you'd like to talk with about your family's future, your children's schooling, your own retirement—or your company's business life insurance needs?

Their outstanding record speaks for itself. It shows that Mass Mutual men are an elite corps of skilled professionals.

New Unrest Stirring In Saigon Politics

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Vietnamese sources in the United States detect a new ferment beginning to bubble beneath the relative calm that has prevailed in South Viet Nam since the last eight months.

They report a debate going on among politically conscious elements in South Viet Nam. Involved are basic issues of war, peace and the future of Indochina and the question of whether there is a political way out.

As they describe it, this discussion seems to mirror soul-searching going on in the United States. It would indicate tentative probing to determine whether a door might be opened to the Communists, permitting a political solution.

New Upheaval
Some of what these informants report may be wishful thinking and some may be inspired by individual political motives. But if even part of what they report is actually going on behind scenes in Saigon, it could lead to a new political upheaval.

The informants report interest in the idea of creating an atmosphere in which an offer might be made to leaders of the Viet Cong Communists, with the intention of keeping Red China out of Viet Nam at all costs.

This would mean eventually inviting Viet Cong representatives to join a coalition government in the South. These would come from the ranks of those the informants describe as "responsible Communists," meaning those who would want to keep all Viet Nam independent of Red China.

Replace Leaders
The present regime under Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu as chief of state, and the air force commander, Nguyen Cao Ky, as premier, are not apt to welcome Communists into a coalition. Thus, if such a program were to become operative, it might require heavy pressure to induce the military leaders to stand aside, or perhaps an overthrow of the regime.

As some sources sketch the prospects, a civilian premier, acceptable as possible to diverse elements, would be installed. It could be a man like Dr. Pham Huy Quat, who headed a sort of civilianized government for eight months until the military ousted him last June. A Buddhist, he is reported to be held in high regard by many Americans and Saigon civilians.

Then, these informants continue, the idea would be to make an approach to the Communist "National Liberation Front" to accept representation in the Saigon government. Thereafter, the way would be opened to trade and political connections with North Viet Nam.

Door to Hanoi
Trade and political contacts with the North, it is argued, would open a door to Hanoi, now isolated in Southeast Asia with no place to turn except to Red China. Some profess to foresee the two Viet Nams in an economic bloc which might have a chance of resisting pressures from the Red Chinese.

Certain South Vietnamese politicians interested in this sort of development are said to call themselves "non-Communist," as distinct from anti-Communist.

One eminent Vietnamese says he feels that moderate Buddhists and moderate Roman Catholics can develop organizations which can act together to bring public pressure on Ky and Thieu. Such "moderate" exclude elements like the extreme Buddhists led by Thich Tri Quang and the Catholics who were close to Ngo Dinh Diem. Quang played an important role in the Buddhist uprising which preceded President Diem's downfall in November 1963.

Independent of China
"We non-Communists," said the same source, "feel there could be a way to open the door to the Communists if we were assured that the Viet Nam Communist party — and by that I mean the North Vietnamese party and the Viet Cong, because they are all the same — could be independent of China."

Whether such a development is on the way or not, the United States may be facing certain prospects. These include possible public weariness with the carnage, a sense of frustration both in Viet Nam and the United States with the possibility of years more of the same, and the chronic ailments of South Vietnamese politics.

Some substance seems to be given to the reports in the light of past events. The post-Diem regime under Duong Van Minh was overthrown in 1964. Among those helping in this enterprise were elements who suspected his regime of planning to open a door to the Communists. One of the leading figures in that upheaval, which ushered in the regime of Gen. Nguyen Khanh, was Gen. Tran Thien Khiem.

Khiem wants war to the finish with Hanoi. He now is warning against a "Munich in Saigon." Khiem was sent out of South Viet Nam as ambassador to Washington and then was assigned as ambassador to Nationalist China. This seemed to be exile for so influential a figure. Why — or how — it was accomplished remains a mystery.

Khiem Retort
Asked about it last week, Khiem retorted: "No comment. Ask the people who sent me here."

Khiem's assignment abroad, away from the political arena, could be viewed as a concession by the military leadership to pressures from those seeking

The seekers of such a solution present the situation in this manner:

— The renewed U.S. air attacks on North Viet Nam are "political bombings." If these are limited to roads, bridges and military targets away from Hanoi and Haiphong, the Soviet Union is likely to do nothing about it. This sort of bombing erases what only the Russians — not the Chinese — can replace. This would tend to increase Soviet authority in North Viet Nam, and Saigon's "doves" indicate they would far rather see that than contested Peking sway.

— If the bombing should hit either Hanoi or Haiphong port, or if Haiphong should be blockaded, the Soviet Union might be forced closer to the Chinese side of the argument.

Open Break
— The Viet Nam situation has an increasingly abrasive effect on Moscow's relations with Peking. If this continues, the two will reach the point of open break.

— This abrasive effect is reflected in North Viet Nam. The Politburo — 11 men under President Ho Chi Minh — is divided 6-5 in favor of the Chinese line. It would not take much to turn control the other way. Marshal Vo Nguyen Giap, victor of Dien Bien Phu, is in control of the army and he is pro-Moscow.

— The germ of deviation, as the Chinese view it, is spreading in the North Viet Nam party. There is weariness with the costly war and there is deep-rooted, traditional distrust of China. Such Communists are viewed by some Southern political elements as basically Nationalist, men who would listen to a proposal of a way out, if the offer sounded attractive enough.

Those who look at the picture this way — and they seem to be supported by some influential Americans — say there obviously is no military solution to the Vietnamese situation, and that therefore the solution must be diplomatic and political.

To Your Good Health

Heavy Snorers Often Irritating to Others

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I am 69 years old and recently married to a woman who is everything to be desired except she's an habitual snorer.

I am becoming nervous and irritable from loss of sleep. She is aware that I am writing you and we look forward to your advice. — M.L.

You seem to have tried all the common remedies (I deleted much of your letter), even including ear plugs. Perhaps cotton wool, instead of plugs, would be more satisfactory.

Most snorers are not aware of the racket they make. Some jolt themselves awake just as they are beginning to fall asleep, but real high-powered, continuous snoring occurs when the snorer is relaxed and in deep sleep.

There are many causes of snoring, and some remedies. Soft tissues of the nose or throat flutter as the person breathes. Occasionally defects in the nose (polyps, deviated septum, congestion) or in the throat can be corrected. Sometimes change of habits may improve the condition. Heavy smokers are likely to be loud snorers because the throat and larynx are irritated and often swollen.

Mouth breathers are inclined to snore, which explains why chin straps to keep the mouth closed are tried. But why is the person a mouth breather? Should some obstruction of the nose be corrected?

Fat people snore more than others, although I've heard some rather devastating wood-sawing from lean folks, too.

As we grow older, flabbiness of the muscles of throat and mouth make snoring more likely. There's nothing to do about that except to make sure that all correctable causes have been sought out and treated to such degree as is possible of summons, execution of judgment and was followed by a question and answer session.

wondered if some such arrangement might be contrived to shut out noise from snoring. Maybe the ear caps could be lined or filled with lamb's wool, or cotton batting both for comfort and to deaden the noise.

Snoring is not a humorous problem when it interferes with another's sleep, and by its very nature it is not easy to study. Numerous devices and gadgets have been placed on the market, but most of them are either uncomfortable or ineffective.

Dear Dr. Molner: Two months ago we bought shoes for our two-year-old son. They are a new design in which the feet are allowed a lot of room to grow. Particularly in the toe areas, we are not pleased with the wearing qualities and wonder if

Federal Funds to Provide Powerfull Boost to State's Highway Scenery

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The lengthening financial reach of the national government will provide a powerful boost in the state Highway Department's highway beautification program, often regarded as one of the most effective means of tourist attraction and visitor pleasure.

Besides providing money and encouragement for the control of outdoor advertising on the principal federal-aid highways and for the control of junkyards on the main-traveled lanes, the 1965 National Highway Beautification Act also will provide a larger sum than the commission has ever controlled before for roadside planting and related scenic improvement.

Much Larger Grants
The first year allotment to the state for acquisition and improvement of scenic areas, development of rest spots and landscaping within the right of way of federal aid highways is $751,000.

Future grants to the state will probably be larger. The new law provides that states are eligible for beautification grants equal to 3 per cent of the funds highways, which would amount to about $1,400,000 yearly to this state in the future.

Parleys Urged on Law to Ban Strike of Public Workers

MADISON (AP) — Nathan P. Feinsinger has suggested a series of informal conferences as a first step in mapping proposed legislation designed to eliminate public employe strikes in Wisconsin.

Feinsinger, a nationally-known mediator and a law professor at the University of Wisconsin, is unpaid consultant to Gov. Warren P. Knowles on problems related to public employe strikes.

Feinsinger presented his initial suggestions to the governor Wednesday. They call for conferences with groups including the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, the City Managers Association, the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, the State AFL-CIO, and the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance.

After the series of conferences, a round of public hearings would be held. Further public hearings would be conducted after a concrete proposal is submitted to the governor.

Thus the state would be enabled to expand by several times its own state-financed programs of highway beautification, which lately has emphasized scenic easements above other phases of such work.

The highway department has explained to landscape contractors that all of such work will be awarded on bids submitted to its construction division.

The junkyard control program will also provide work for the landscapers, since it is expected that most of the screening of such grounds will be through shrub and tree plantings. In some instances the roadside improvement work will involve selective clearing of wood growth and the thinning of desirable shrubbery growth.

Report Says NLF Was Originated by Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has before him an analysis that says that the National Liberation Front in Vietnam definitely is a creation of Hanoi and is controlled by it.

Johnson had the analysis prepared after his Honolulu conference with South Vietnamese leaders, where the question of NLF participation in any peace discussions seemed to offer a point of some disagreement.

This developed from the American stand that the Viet Cong's voice could be heard at any conference and the stand of the Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Rao Ky that he would not negotiate with the Viet Cong.

The administration's position is that Hanoi itself speaks for the Viet Cong because it set up the NLF and dictates to it. Furthermore, the administration view is that Ky, rather than taking a firm stand on his own initiative against talking with Nevertheless, McNamara said, the Communists continue their buildup in the South and give evidence of plans for a further increase.

But he told the senators he was not prepared to say things will "get much worse before they get better."

The McNamara testimony was released as eight liberal House Democrats joined in a call for a military slowdown in Viet Nam, and admission of Red China to the United Nations.

The group recently set itself up as a special unofficial conference to study the Viet Nam problem and conferred with a group of experts it described as "particularly qualified" to discuss the situation.

The conference was sponsored by Reps. Benjamin S. Rosenthal of New York, Charles C. Diggs Jr. of Michigan, Don Edwards of California, Leonard Farbstein of New York, Donald M. Fraser of Minnesota, Robert W. Kastenmeier and Henry S. Reuss of Wisconsin and William F. Ryan of New York.

On Jan. 10, the FBI and detectives found such a car in a Rockford used-car lot. The FBI said Dewey purchased the car for $1,800 in November, sold it for $650 Jan. 4, and left Rockford for his mother's home in San Diego.

Dewey worked in Rockford as a landscaper and an office worker in a farm equipment company and lived with his grandparents. Police said he quit his job in late December.

Children Say Trucks 'Running Over Our Minds'

BRENTWOOD, Calif. (AP) —

Third-grade pupils at Brentwood Elementary School have sent Gov. Edmund G. Brown 29 handwritten letters complaining of traffic noises on a nearby highway.

"There are three to 12 trucks a minute that pass by and make so much noise that we cannot hear. While reciting our lessons. We have to wait for the trucks to pass by and by the time they have passed, our little minds have forgotten that we were going to say," the letters said.

Marjorie Curtis, their teacher, said the children dictated the letter themselves.

Computerized Medicine Seen By AMA Head

MADISON (AP) — The president of the American Medical Association foresees a push button era of medicine, but says the practicing physician will never be replaced.

Dr. James Appel of Lancaster, Pa., described advances of "push button instrumentation" Monday night and said, "Perhaps some of us will see the day when both diagnosis and treatment by a scientifically programmed computer will become a possibility."

"But," Dr. Appel said, "it is my firm belief that even so sophisticated an instrument never will supplant the practicing physician. For no amount of scientific knowledge, none of the elaborate laboratory procedures and push button instruments, by themselves, will do what a good physician can do."

Dr. Appel addressed fellow physicians at the Wisconsin Work Week of Health sponsored by the Medical Society of Wisconsin.

Natural Causes Found In Death of Lake Mills Man After Street Fight

LAKE MILLS (AP) — The death of a Lake Mills man after a street fight was attributed to natural causes Monday.

John Lavern Hardy, 30, suffered a respiratory failure, Jefferson County Coroner Elwood Reichert said. Hardy died Sunday night after a fight earlier in the day. Reichert said Hardy was an epileptic.

Flight Plan For Gemini 8 Is Announced

cur one month from today, March 15.

Scott and Armstrong plan to catch up with their target satellite on the fifth or sixth orbit, then slowly push the nose of Gemini 8 into a docking collar on the target satellite, firmly coupling the capsule to it. Both the Agena and ATDA have this collar.

If the Agena is used, the astronauts will use controls inside Gemini 8 to fire a small Agena propulsion unit. Delicate instruments will then measure the thrust the Agena provides.

On the morning of the second day, Scott is scheduled to get out of the capsule and maneuver his way to the rear. There, he will put on a special backpack with life-supporting oxygen bottles and other equipment inside.

After some maneuvering with a hand-held jet gun, the astronaut will cling to hand and foot grips on the rear of the spacecraft, sources said, while Armstrong fires small rockets on the spacecraft to back Gemini 8 away from its target satellite.

Formation Flight

The astronauts then plan to fly in formation with the satellite — at a distance of 10 or 15 feet — with Scott "swimming" in space, taking pictures and possibly touching the satellite. The life-line connecting him to Gemini 8 will permit Scott to go 75 to 100 feet away.

Scott is expected to hang onto the rear of Gemini 8 again while Armstrong fires the spacecraft's maneuvering rockets to rendezvous and dock with the target satellite. Altogether, Scott will be outside the capsule about three hours.

Inside the capsule again having left his backpack and life-line out in space, he and Armstrong will rendezvous and dock with the target vehicle five or six times, approaching from various angles and distances.

After 12 to 14 hours of experiments on the third day, the astronauts are to splash down in the Atlantic — completing a mission of nearly 72 hours.

Zablocki to Go To Viet Nam for Committee Check

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D - Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on the Far East and Pacific, will leave Washington Wednesday for South Viet Nam.

The Milwaukee Democrat said here Monday he wanted to check on the war-racked nation's economic development "in view of the additional gree murder in the fatal shooting of Sinclair Thompson Jr., in amount the President has re-neged of Congress for that Sunday, in what police said was an argument over a poker debt.

Armed robbery charges were der the province of Zablocki's also filed against Beverly and Tommie Bowers, 26.

carrying supplies to the Viet Cong.

U.S. spokesmen claimed that U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots operating over South Viet Nam smashed 425 Viet Cong buildings Monday and early today, hit three gun emplacements, sank 12 sampans and killed an estimated 30 Viet Cong. They reported 10 secondary explosions, presumably ammunition or fuel.

A heavy overcast continued to blanket North Viet Nam, forcing U.S. pilots to depend mostly on radar guidance. A spokesman said they bombed road rail and water communications lines Monday in the southern part of the Communist North concentrating on the routes to Laos and the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

Two VC Strikes

The Viet Cong struck twice early today near the provincial capital of Tam Ky in the central part of South Viet Nam and in Huong, "moderate to fairly heavy" casualties on government militiamen.

The Communists overran an outpost defended by an estimated 60 to 80 men two miles north west of Tam Ky and held it for five hours. The post was retaken by about 900 reinforcements after Vietnamese air force A4 Skyraiders pounded the area. One estimate placed the Red attack force at 300 men.

The French government announced that President Charles de Gaulle had written North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh that he is prepared to "participate actively" in a settlement of the war as soon as a settlement appears possible. But he made clear that he does not consider the time is ripe for a negotiated peace.

Repeat Conviction

De Gaulle, replying to a letter sent him Jan. 24 when he wrote to a number of government chiefs, repeated his conviction that a military solution is not possible and called again for a political solution providing for Vietnamese neutrality.

Ambassador Nguyen Xuan of North Viet Nam told the Middle East News Agency in Cairo that Hanoi has turned down a Somali proposal for an Asian-African committee to seek settlement of the war. Xuan said such a committee would constitute interference in the internal affairs of North Viet Nam.

Red China accused the Soviet Union again of joining the United States in a "vain attempt to

Murder Charge Filed In Milwaukee Shooting

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Theater Beverly, 25, Milwaukee, was charged Monday with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Sinclair Thompson Jr., in amount the President has re-neged of Congress for that Sunday, in what police said was an argument over a poker debt. Armed robbery charges were der the province of Zablocki's also filed against Beverly and Tommie Bowers, 26.

Unseasonably Mild Weather Ended by Cold

Montana, Minnesota Drop Below Zero, Chill Goes Eastward

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry weather, with snow and cold hit areas from the Rocky Mountain region into the Midwest today, ending a spell of unseasonably mild temperatures in some sections.

Cold wave warnings were posted for Montana east of the Continental Divide and temperatures dropped to below zero from Montana to Minnesota. Chilly weather extended eastward to the Appalachians.

Snow Belt

Snow fell in the Rockies, across South Dakota to the Great Lakes region and in the upper Ohio Valley. Two inches of snow in a six hour period gave Salt Lake City, Utah a total of nine inches on the ground.

The mercury dipped to 14 below zero at Fargo, N.D., and International Falls, Minn. The cold air was expected to move across the upper Mississippi Valley eastward into New England.

Snow fell Monday from south central Illinois to western parts of Pennsylvania and New York State.

The Ohio River crested nearly three feet above flood stage in Pittsburgh Monday night, ending any threat of serious flooding. The Weather Bureau said the river leveled off at 27.7 feet, short of the 30-foot level where serious damage begins.

The Allegheny and Monongahela rivers which merge to form the Ohio in Pittsburgh, flooded low-lying streets and roads along the edges of the two streams. Many rivers are near flood stage in eastern West Virginia, western Maryland and south central Pennsylvania.

Skies were generally clear today along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, with mild weather in Florida. The early morning top was 72 at Key West, Fla.

Lutheran Social Service Names New President
 MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Lutheran Social Services of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan named Kenneth Decker of Janesville as president Monday. The group's board of directors elected Kenneth Geist of Hartland and the Rev. Waldo Johnson of Eau Claire as vice-presidents and the Rev. Frank Efford of Madison as secretary.

Richard Cardinal Cushing said the policy change was "just and realistic in the light of the new spirit of unity and ecumenism which has pervaded the Church since the days of Pope John elected Kenneth Geist of Hartland and the Rev. Come in and take on a tiger!

The only thing that looks low-priced on a Pontiac Tempest is its price sticker.

And that's removable.

Take off, and there's just a pure, unadorned Pontiac. Crisp, wide-track style and handling. A handsome interior. Plus the effortless performance of a new V-6 overhead cam 6 engine that puts out 174 hp. The sport of an 8-1/2" wheelbase. The traction. 6. And of course, being a Pontiac, Tempest allows you the luxury of choice — with options in engines, transmissions, suspensions, practice vehicle equipment. And, like all Pontacs, Tempest also has a standard safety package — 4 door, 4 seat belts, 2 door, 2 seat belts and rear (that ought to do for now. We'll just rest when you get here.)

Charles Percy Speech in South Causes Crisis

Mississippi GOP
Not Happy About
Feb. 17 Appearance

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON

Intense backstage pressure applied to Charles H. Percy ever since he accepted an invitation to address a biracial group in Mississippi tells much about the Republican party in the Deep South — and elsewhere as well.

Percy, a nationally ambitious Republican moderate running for the U. S. Senate from Illinois, withstood the pressure. He will fulfill a nonpolitical engagement before the Mississippi Council on Human Relations in Jackson Feb. 17. Thus, Mississippi will experience, perhaps for the first time, a Republican industrialist politician speaking out for Negro rights.

But the incident demonstrates how tightly the "white men only" sign is still nailed to the Republican party in the Deep South. Even more outrageous, these Republican segregationists actually received support from some Republicans in the very non-Southern state of Illinois in their attempt to balk Percy.

Council Growing

Ironically, the Mississippi Council on Human Relations (an offshoot of the Atlanta-based Southern Regional Council) is a slender hope for biracialism in a state whose tragic politics tends to polarize between white and black racists. The Council is growing in stature, with white industrialists and businessmen beginning to take part. In hopes of furthering racial peace in Mississippi, Percy (a descendant of Alabamians and Mississippians) last December accepted the council's speaking invitation.

But this collided with Mississippi Republican strategy to make their party the white man's party in the state. Far from wooing the new Negro vote, they plan to campaign against segregationist Democratic Sen. James O. Eastland this year by accusing him of letting civil rights bills pass the Senate.

Wirt Yerger, the firebrand Mississippi Republican who has just completed a long hitch as state chairman, tried to scuttle the Percy speech by branding the Council on Human Relations a Democratic front (and therefore unqualified for tax-free foundation funds that sustain it). In fact, Council staff members are under hard instructions to refrain from political activity as part of their work.

Rights Credentials Poor

More important, Yerger Republicans launched a secretive campaign with Illinois Republican businessmen and congressmen. Their argument: Percy was stepping into quicksand. The Leftist, all-black Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP), they charged, is the power behind the Council.

The facts are wholly different. The MFDP itself protested Percy's appearance as vociferously as Wirt Yerger. On grounds that Percy's civil rights credentials are not valid. But Illinois Republicans don't bother to find this out. They advised Percy to keep out of another state's business and stay home in Illinois.

The climax came two weeks ago when Percy was in Washington for a party dinner. He ran into a barrage of advice to cancel the Mississippi appearance (including one overheated encounter with a prominent Southern Republican).

These Republicans can't understand that white backlash politics is dead, replaced by growing competition for the Negro vote. Percy, who got only 11 per cent of the Negro vote in his unsuccessful race for governor in 1964, hopes to do much better against Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas this year. But to cancel his speech in Jackson would doom him on Chicago's South Side.

Competition for Votes

Moreover, competition for the Negro vote gradually will spread into the Deep South as Negro voting increases. The Percy appearance in other words will be in the long range interest of Mississippi Republicans.

Nevertheless Yerger and other state party leaders are boycotting Percy's speech. Officials of the state Young Republicans made it clear they want no part of biracial gatherings of Chuck Percy.

But a few rank and file white Republicans will be in the audience of 700 businessmen, professional men and students (hopefully about evenly divided between white and Negro) that listens to Percy Thursday night. This is a contrast to just three months ago when House Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan was scheduled to address a whites-only Republican gathering in Natchez, Miss., arranged by Yerger but cancelled out at the last moment. Despite all the harassment then, the Percy visit represents a little painstaking progress.
